STRIKE SETTLED AT UNION STOCK YARDS, CHICAGO

TRADING TO BE RESUMED ON MONDAY

Men Are Guaranteed 48 Hours Work Each Week

Chicago, Aug. 4—(AP)—The 12 day old strike of handlers at the Union Stock Yards, which brought paralysis to the world's largest yards for part of the time, was settled late today as General Hugh S. Johnson, NRA head, completed six hours of conferences with principals.

The night shift of the 800 striking employes of the Union Stockyards and Transit company will return to their posts tomorrow and the yards again will be wide open for trading.

The settlement was an outgrowth of the agreement reached by mediators before Judge Philip L. Sullivan of the federal bench to halt a strike last year

Guaranteed Work

Peace terms reached today guaranteed 48 hours woork a week for all regularly employed handlers. So called "extra" employes will be guaranteed at least 40 hours work a week in any week that receipts reach 4,000 cars, which would be an unusually light week.

Union leaders hailed it as a victory, explaining that for the first time their two most vigorous demands were met—those for a 48 hour week and for a recognized minimum of pay or work for the "extra men."

No wage angles were included in the peace terms.

The union previously had said that when Judge Sullivan's settlement provided a minimum of 40 hours work a week, the company took advantage of that provision to reduce working hours for many employes to 40 hours when the majority before the settlement had been working 48 hours.

The company, according to O. T. Henkle, general manager, had lived up to all terms of the Sullivan agreement and he first suggested that the union take their difficulties to Sullivan as a matter of appeal, an offer turned down by John Gorman, head of the local Live Stock Handlers' Union.

The peace terms today said:

"In any week from this date on

Bloodhounds On Trail Of Three Women Convicts

McAlester, Okla., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Bloodhounds sniffed in vain today for the trail of a tattooed woman slayer and her two convict girl friends, who sawed their way out of state's prison here.

Led by "Little Iva" Rhodes, 25 years old, dark haired and flamboyantly tattooed, the three were believed to have been spirited away by a confederate in an automobile as soon as the got out of the women's ward.

The break was discovered at 4 a. m.

Besides "Little Iva," serving 35 years for the fatal stabbing of an admirer during a liquor party in Oklahoma City last ear, those hunted were:

Bessie Catlin, 29, serving 20 years for mnslaughter, from Ellis county, and Clarice Jones, 18, sentenced to 5 years from Seminole county for armed robbery.

REBELLION IN AUSTRIA HAS OPENED, CLAIM

3,000 Nazi Fighters In Camps, Leaders Are Footloose

By Wade Werner

(Copyright, 1934, By Associated Press)

Somewhere on the Yugoslav Border, Aug. 4.—The rebellion in Austria has only begun, Konstantine Kammerhofer, generalissimo of the defeated Nazi forces, told me this afternoon at his headquarters in a Yugoslav town where he is surrounded by his staff planning his next move.

Approximately 3,000 Nazi fighters, remnants of the force which for a time held sections of Styria and Carinthia, at present are interned in fugitives' camps, but the leaders, who crossed the border with them, still are footloose.

Getting through to Kammerhofer's hideout was difficult, but once there I was surprised to see it functioning like a general staff headquarters as plans were made to renew the fight for "German Austria's freedom."

Typing Orders

Young Nazis were typing orders for dispatching to unrevealed destinations and the generalissimo himself was surrounded by surbordinate leaders, one of whom had been an officer in the Austrian army until July 25, the day the Nazi revolt broke out.

"We are not finished," Kammerhofer began explosively.

"The fight for German Austria's freedom will go on.

"True, our military resistance has been temporarily broken.

"True, the Schuschnigg government (the government of Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg of Austria) now wreaks vengeance on our families and followers at home, confiscates our property and robs us of our bank accounts.

"But the fight goes on and where there are no men left the women and children will continue fighting.

"Schuschnigg's government has no more chance of surviving than its predecessors.

"This is no mere party struggle," Kammerhofer continued, pacing up and down the room, "it is a struggle of the German Austrian people against foreign domination—against the Italian masters. You ought to know what that means."

The blond generalissimos blue eyes blazed.

"You Americans know what kind of a fight is about, don't you?" he asked, punctuating his emphasis with quick strides. "Dollfuss is dead—let us say no more about him than that his death was inevitable.

"But who is Schuschnigg, his successor? Schuschnigg is not Austria—Schuschnigg is Italy. He was even born in Italy.

"And the private armies of Schuschnigg and Prince Von Starhemberg are a foreign legion in foreign pay.

"Are we to be ruled by Italians or by Germans? That is the question? Are we to be governored from Rome or at home?"

ALUM-EATER

Hollywood, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Ned Sparks, who has done pretty well in the movies partly due to the alum-eating appearance he gives, has quit counting the stomach cure suggestions he has been receiving.

About 9,000 Sparks fans, reading that his professionally sour face was due to a stomach condition, recommended cures.

"I was born looking this way," Ned said today. "My stomach is one of the best in the west—or anywhere else, for that matter."

800,000 ON RELIEF ROLLS IN 23 STATES

Drought Is Causing Much Suffering Reports Show

Kansas City, Aug 4.—(AP)—Approximately 800,000 persons—a number equal to the combined population of the states of Idaho, Delaware and Nevada—are on relief rolls in the drought blighted western half of the United States, it was shown by a tabulation tonight from official records.

As result of the distress caused by the searing heat and prolonged dry spell, the government has designated, for relief purposes, more than 1,350 counties in 23 states as emergency or secondary drought counties.

The loss to growing crops and livestock in the affected area has not been estimated officially, but unofficial estimates placed the total in the hundreds of millions of dollars.

Further Loss

A further loss, through severe shortage of winter feed for livestock, has been predicted by agricultural and relief officials unless substantial rain falls soon Weather forecasts gave no sign of a break in the drought.

Barren pastures, shortage of water, and scarcity of fodder have caused forced sale of thousands of head of cattle to the government to be canned for distribution to the needy. A week ago, government purchases had totalled 1,737,596 head in 18 states. Another 190,000 head had been condemned as unfit for consumption, and killed on the ranges.

Federal relief and farm administration officials geared the cattle purchasing machinery to a possible load of 10,000,000 head

The bureau of agriculture economics in Washington described the situation confronting the sheep industry as well as that of other livestock, as "the most serious ever known." Farm administration relief officials pushed plans to purchase 5,000,000 sheep.

Milk prices were increased in some parts of the drought area—in some cases as much as 50 per cent in the price of delivered milk. Burned pasture land, shortage of forage and water, forced dairymen to decrease the size of their herds, and to purchase feed.

The farm administration's milk section, in Washington, adopted a policy generally favorable to price increases to prevent a possible decimation of the dairy herds.

ROOSEVELT IS TRAVELING TO WASHINGTON

Thousands Hear President in Address at Grand Coulee Power Dam

Spokane, Wash., Aug., 4.—(AP)—Two event-crammed days in the northwest at an end, President Roosevelt put the miles behind him tonight as the train returning him to Washington sped swiftly through the rising foothills of eastern Washington toward Idaho and Montana.

With the thousands who heard him speak this afternoon at the Grand Coulee power dam site on the Great Columbia river the chief executive left the message that the public works program was going forward with particular interest in providing welfare for more families in "this great northwest area."

A halt tomorrow at Glacier National park in Montana will break the journey eastward for the president.

There he will pass the sabbath out-of-doors and speak briefly over a nation-wide hookup of the two major broadcasting systems. The broadcast is scheduled from 8:30 p.m. to 8:45 p.m. (Central Standard Time), but its subject-matter has not been disclosed.

President Roosevelt's special train reached this eastern Washington city at 6:04 p.m. after a three and one half hour run from Ephrata.

"I'm glad to see you, my friends," was his shouted reply to the cheers of nearly 6,000 persons who crowded the station platform here.

Earlier in the day, before 10,000 cheering persons who gathered at Coulee dam site, center of a $63,000,000 water and power project fostered by the government, the chief executive said such federal undertakings concerned not only the states directly involved but also the nation as a whole.

BAIL REDUCED

St. Paul, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Federal Judge M. M. Joyce today ordered the bail of John J. (Boss) McLaughlin, Chicago, held in jail here on charges of possessing part of the $200,000 Edward G. Bremer kidnaping ransom, reduced from $30,000 to $15,000.

The reduction was ordered after Thomas W. McMeekin, attorney for McLaughlin, told the court his client has diabetes and may die if kept in jail. He pointed out that McLaughlin is nearly 67 years old and also is suffering from an old hip injury.

'Miss America' Deprived of Child

Custody of her 4-year-old daughter, De Cygne L'Amour, shown left with the father in Oklahoma City court, was lost by Mrs. Norma Smallwood Gilcrease, "Miss America" of 1926, right, in her divorce battle with Thomas Gilcrease, Oklahoma oil magnate. The child will remain with the father until settlement is reached in the suit, in which sensational charges have been made by counsel for Gilcrease, and vigorously denied by the mother.

Republican Convention Gives Indications of Developing Into Political Free-For-All

NEW ORLEANS BATTLE JUST ONE OF WORDS

No Relaxation In Rival Camps Of Leaders, Is Report

New Orleans, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The "Battle of New Orleans" continued an affair of wordy threats and legal involvement today.

There was, however, no relaxation in the rival cacmps of Senator Huey P. Long and Mayor T. Seemes Walmsley, where hundreds of armed men awaited the word of their leaders in the grim struggle for political supremacy.

Senator Long had temporarily withdrawn from the immediate scene of operations, establishing himself in the governor's mansion at Baton Rouge. National guardss mobilized by the state administration, which he controls, remained on duty here, however, in spite of a district court order, now three days old, calling for demobilization.

Augment Force

Mayor Walmsley's augmented police force of 1,400 men likewise continued on a 12-hour shift, admittedly ready for any eventuality. The mayor flung fresh defiance a tthe senator by asserting he was ready to increase the force to 10,000 if necessary.

Referring to the seizure of the voters registration office in city hall annex Monday night by militiamen who since have held the office behind mounted machine guns, Mayor Walmsley said the city did not recognize their right to be there in view of the fact that the office contained the books being prepared for the September congressional primary, but added:

"The office of registrar of voters for Orleans Parish is, as every one should know, a state office, not a city office. The registrar is appointed by Senator Long.

"If Senator Long wishes to equip state troops in that office with steel helmets and gas grenades, that is his affair.

"But if he tries to seize any municipal office with his 'partial martial law' trick he will discover he has started a fight."

Senator Long, who said yesterday that his friend the governor had declined to disband the troops in obedience to the local court order and who subsequently announced he was going fishing, declined to talk seriously about anything today.

Adjutant General Raymond H. Fleming, commanding the national guard, continued to evade service of a court order for demobilization.

KILLS WOMAN

Wichita Falls, Texas, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Mrs. Wilma Harrison, 30-year-old religious worker, shot and killed Mrs. Cora Hawthorne, 30, in a crowded grorery store today because, she told officers in a statement, Mrs. Hawthorne associated with her husband

Mrs. Harrison was charged with murder. She waived a preliminary hearing and was held under $5,000 bond pending action by the grand jury. She made a lengthy statement in the district attorney's office in the presence of a newspaperman, but details of the actual shooting were withheld.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 4.—(AP)—The convention of the Republican party, which is out of power in Illinois for the first time in 17 years, gives advance indications of developing into a political free-for-all during which some of the old time leaders may be relegated to the sidelines.

While the advance guard of the old guard has been busy making plans for the convention, which is to be held here next Thursday, there were indications tonight that some of the younger element may have to be taken into consideration.

Leaders of the Young Republican league, which manifested its displeasure with the old guard at the last Lincoln day banquet, were reported to be writing several planks which they will seek to have incorported in the party's platform.

Oppose Program

A number of them have also expressed their displeasure at the efforts of some of the elders to pick, in advance of the convention, a permanent chairman.

Just how far the young Republicans may go in wielding convention influence is a matter of conjecture.

It is a political axiom that the party out of power has a livelier convention than does the one which is in control of the patronage. Few, if any, of the delegates to the convention of the "outs" are bound by patronage, many of the old leaders have been dislodged in the landslide which swept the party out of power, and, all in all, there is a tendency to listen to new leaders.

In such a convention it is possible the young Republicans may carry their point. If they do the G. O. P. platform this year may include more evidences of liberalism than it has on some previous occasions and, unless the old guard succeeds in stopping an incipient revolt, new faces may come into prominence.

Meanwhile, the old guard goes on trotting out various names as suggested for permanent chairman and seeking the reaction to each. It also continues its policy of making plans for every minute of the session, the tentative selection of officers and committees, and the drafting of planks for the platform.

The high spot at Thursday's convention will be the addresses of Henry P. Fletcher, chairman of the party's national committee. Others prominent in the state will aid Fletcher in lambasting the new deal, the Horner administration and in advancing the causes of the party's nominees.

BEACH HOME OF LEW CODY SOLD

Los Angeles, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The beach home of the late Lew Cody, movie actor, and all its furnishings were sold today for $1,700 cash at the last of several auctions in the liquidation of his estate.

The auction at Las Transac Beach, about 40 miles northwest of here, attracted a throng, but there were few bidders. The purchaser gave his name as Bob Murcell of Los Angeles.

The large lot, which is under a ten year lease with four years to run, was not involved in the sale. The house i san eight room frame and shingle building built four years ago by Pauline Frederick, actress. Debts against the place amount to about $1,500, Auctioneer Dean S. Bedilion said.

No bidders appeared for Cody's Beverly Hills home, which has $15,000 in mortgages against it, and it was expected to be disposed of later in a private deal.

HITLER SPEECH MAY REVEAL HIS FUTURE COURSE

Chancellor Is Guarded By Regular Army For First Time

By Louis P. Lochner,
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

Berlin, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler today began work on a speech which the chancellery intimated will contain important political revelations to the world which has watched with deep interest his assumption of the functions of president as well as chancellor.

Behind chancellery doors guarded for the first time by members of the Reichswehr (regular army) the chancellor was busy with the address he will deliver to the Reichstag Monday on the occasion of the memorial service for the late President Paul Von Hindenburg.

The chancellor also will speak Tuesday, at the funeral services at Tannenberg, thus undertaking two major appearances before the nation and the world on successive days.

The Reichswehr guard today moved over from the presidential palace to the chancellery, replacing Schutz Staffel, which had the duty of guarding the building since Hitler came to power.

It was symbolic of the new oath of personal loyalty to the chancellor and also of his assumption of presidential powers.

Hitler has been watching the world reaction to his virtual coup d'etat in making himself both executive and chancellor, and is well aware of the fears expressed in many quarters, especially in America, that Von Hindenburg's death may have removed the last break on radicalism.

He is expected to give some reassuring statements in that regard.

Even with other matters pressing, the Hitler government today issued an order suspending for two weeks the anti-Semitic weekly "Der Stuermer," published by Julius Streicher.

The action was based on an attack in the paper on President Masryzk

SECRET GRUDGE ENDS IN DEATH OF MAN BY SUICIDE

South Carolina Man Fires Shots That Miss, Then Takes Own Life

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 4.—(AP)—A secret grudge against O. Frank Hart, grand master of South Carolina Masons, and nine business associates exploded today in a burst of gunfire which narrowly missed Hart and ended in a suicide.

After firing two bullets at Hart, John E. Black, former secretary of the Security Building and Loan Association of Columbia, turned the pistol on himself.

Documents found on Black's body disclosed that he had drafted condemnatory letters to the ten directors of his former firm and had brooded for six months or more over losing his position.

Among them was a photograph of Black with his right arm extended and index finger stabbing ominously forward. He held a clock in his left hand.

"To your dying day when you see, hear or think of a watch or clock," a letter with the photograph said, "you will realize that I am silenty standing near with out-stretched hand pointing to you x x x."

The letter, dated January 12, 1934, bore a notation, "this letter and photograph has been sent to each one above."

Hart's name was second on the list referred to and Chief of Police W. H. Rawlinson said Black went to his office in the center of the city armed with two pistols to kill him.

The Masonic leader told police he had not been threatened by Black when his former colleague walked into the office about 11:30 a. m. with a box under his arm.

"He started to pull a pistol out of his back pocket after talking a few minutes," Hart said, "and I grabbed it. The elevator man, Andrew Brown, and L. C. Shaa, who was in the elevator hurried over when I called.

"I didn't have any idea he had another one and I was out by the elevator trying to unload this pistol when he walked back into my office, took the other one out of the box, I guess, and came out shooting with it.

COSTLY ERROR

Denver, Aug., 4.—(AP)—It cost Oscar Malo $1,000 to misinterpret a cablegram his son, Kenneth, sent from Munich, Germany.

The son, a student abroad, sent this:

"Imperative you send marks immediately."

Malo cabled $1,000 worth of German marks.

He got another cable from the son, saying: "I meant my school marks." The son did not return the $1,000.

"Missing Shoes" Murder Mystery Has Been Solved

Oklahoma City, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The "missing shoes" murder has been solved.

A. N. Ledger, 45-year old insurance man, was shot fatally last Tuesday morning while on a picnic with Mrs. Marie Walker, 49, a divorcee. Ledger's shoes were missing.

Arrested, Mrs. Walker told police a negro had shot Ledger in a holdup. She was charged with murder.

That was the status of the case when Andrew Suggs, 25, a negro, was arrested as a burglary suspect. Detective Clint Miers found Ledger's shoes in the negro's house. Suggs then confessed, Miers said.

Mrs. Walker was released by officers who said she had identified both Suggs and the shoes.

OFFICERS CLAIM EXTORTION NOTE OUTRIGHT BLUFF

Believe Letters Sent To Wealthy Men Is Work Of Crank

Los Angeles, Aug. 4—(AP)—An extortionn ote signed "the Trio," demanding $60,000 from five prominent and wealthy men on pain of "grave danger" to themselves or their families, was studied tonight by authorities, half in the belief it might be an insincere bluff or an outright hoax.

Experts compared the note with numerous "crank" letters in possession of police. They also sought to trace the typewriter on which it was written.

Whether the demand is someone's idea of a joke or a genuine extortion attempt, every effort will be made to run down the perpetrators, said detective chief Joe Taylor.

Demands And Threats

The demand and threats were addressed to Orra Monnette, vice president of the bank of America; E. L. Doheny, multimillionaire oil magnate; Alexander Pantages, theatrical magnate; Jack J. Doyle, wealthy sports promoter and oil man, and William F. Gettle, retired Beverly Hills multimillionaire, recent victim of an unsuccessful $60,000 ransom kidnaping for which three men are serving life prison terms.

Addressed to all five, the note was received only by Monnette, authorities said. Doyle and Pantages received only brief notes instructing them to get in touch with Monnette. Pantages said he tore up his note and disregarded it. Doheny and Gettle, so far as could be learned, received nothing.

The purported "plot," on which authorities said they had been working since Thursday, was disclosed last night.

Carrying the names of the five men in the salutation, the note read:

"A demand is now being made that you five men shall pay us the sum of (60,000 thousand dollars) under threat of grave danger to yourself or your families and we really mean to get the above amount or carry out our plan in full.

"We are completely equipped with high-powered rifles with silencer attachments and you can readily see how easy it will be for us to act if you do not carry out our instructions in full.

"You will pay this amount as follows: $30,000 in 50 dollar bills, $20,000 in 20 dollar bills, $10,000 in 10 dollar bills.

"All the above to be in unmarked money and in used bills.

"We will look for your reply in the Times under class 10 and then we will give you full instructions as to getting the cash to our hands.

"Use your own judgment about notification to the police but any interference on their part will only cost you and yours more dearly.

PARASITES KILL GRASSHOPPERS

Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 4.—(AP)—A small parasite which deals quick death to grasshoppers has brought hope that a new method of exterminating the pest may yet be found.

Will G. Metz, state relief administrator, says Sheridan county farmers have found literally millions of grasshoppers dead within the past month, each with a hole pierced beneath a wing.

Entomologists became interested and determined that little parasites were doing as much to eliminate the grasshoppers as poison bait.

BUSINESS MEN OFFER UNUSUAL TRADE CHANCE

Old Time Prices Will Prevail On Goods Of All Kinds

We're having another!

By which we mean another one of those big Jacksonville Dollar Days. It will be Tuesday, Aug. 7. Merchants have planned to make this event bigger and better than ever, and to give the shoppers the best bargains they have ever had. The public is urged to profit by this sales day and make their dollars buy some real values at Jacksonville stores. They can be found there in abundance and of wide variety.

These are days of sky-rocketing prices, and it is refreshing to find a city where merchants have banded together to give the people the advantage of prices that become less and less familiar in these times, prices that are low, even in periods of low prices.

A perusal of the advertising in the local press today will convince the reader that Jacksonville merchants have scored again in providing bargains that are exactly that, bargains that will fit the pocketbook of every shopper, whatever may be his circumstances.

Everything Included

The articles offered include everything for the home and the individual. Food, clothing, furnishings, all of high quality, are ready for the purchasers who will crowd the business district Tuesday. The merchandise will be attractively displayed, and courteous service in all stores will supply the shoppers' every need.

Owing to many factors of government and economics, a dollar is more valuable now than it was a few years ago. It is therefore necessary to buy where it will purchase as much as possible.

People who spend their dollars here Tuesday will not be disappointed for they will find by comparison that they can get greater value here on Dollar Day than anywhere else. The merchants have made special purchases for this event, and fresh stocks of merchandise await the shoppers.

It is a big chance for everybody. The shopper will have the benefit of this Dollar Day, a hundred per cent.

You can't lose, you will always gain if you buy in Jacksonville on Dollar Day!

JOHN DILLINGER INVESTIGATION WILL CONTINUE

Department of Justice Agents Concentrate In Indiana

Indianapolis, Aug. 4.—(AP)—John Dillinger's death has not halted the inquiry into his depredations, Philip Lutz, Jr., Indiana attorney-general, said today.

Lutz said a force of fifteen department of justice agents has been concentrated in northern Indiana to track down the remnants of the Dillinger gang and to continue an investigation of his sensational break from the Crown Point jail.

The attorney-general said J. Edward Barce, a deputy who investigated the desperado's escape, had "assurance but not proof" that Dillinger's friends formed a pool and paid $10,000 to aid in his jail break. Lutz said the information came in a "round about" way from convicts.

"The money was paid to an Indiana man," Lutz said. He refused, however, to reveal his name.

Lutz said the federal agents are cooperating with his office in a "cleansing of Lake county."

Dillinger's break from the Crown Point jail was investigated by a grand jury and indictments were returned against Ernest Blunk, finger print expert, and Sam Cahoon, a trusty warden, charging them with aiding Dillinger to escape. Blunk was tried and acquitted and the case against Cahoon was later dismissed without trial.

Please Cooperate

Jacksonville's traffic system seems to be little better, despite the efforts of the mayor and the city police to straighten out the siuaion. Moorists insist upon parking at all angles on the city streets, which unfortunately are none too wide. Traffic officers have stuck a good many police tickets on automobiles, apparently to no avail in improving the situation.

And as long as the local drivers persist in careless double parking, speeding, and poor driving they will be at a loss to remedy the condition.

It is absolutely essential that the autoists realize that they must obey traffic regulations and do their part to drive carefully, if Jacksonville is to have an efficient traffic system. One has no right to complain about the method of directing traffic in this city unless he(himself, assists by parking and driving properly.

And so, if we ae all to enjoy the advantages of an orderly system of traffic for our community, we must all strive to do our bit by seeing that we do not park double, that we drive carefully and not too speedily. Otherwise, the confusion and delay that results from present tangled condition will continue to become more unbearable.

Where Power is Dangerous

One headline on the German situation says "Europe pales," as Hitler takes power. That was a correct expression of the feeling in European capitals, because the nations over there do not know how Hitler is going to use the new powers he has acquired thu the death of Von Hindenburg.

Hitler is now the most powerful leader in Europe, as far as scope of authority is concerned. He is both president and Chancellor of Germany and is in position to usurp all the offices of government he desires, even to the monarchy and the leadership of the church. Some believe he will seize bothr of these offices.

Powers in the hands of Mussolini, Stalin or Kemal Pasha has not been greatly misused; it has not brought trouble to other nations. But with Hitler it may be different. He has already been accused of having Dollfuss of Austria murdered. The world is suspicious of him, and whatever happens in Europe will likely be charged to him, whether or not he is responsible.

There is no doubt of Hitler's capacity to do evil, and in the doing thereof he has proved himself to be ruthless. What will he do next. Nobody knows, but everybody fears the worst. If Hitler wants to establish a good reputation, he will remain rather quiet and avoid doing many thing that Europe is afraid he will do.

The Relief Burden

The state of Illinois has put $55,000,000 into relief and has been granted by the federal government an additional $115,000,000, and the end is not yet. The veto of the Lance bills kept the burden of relief on the entire state and on the nation, and kept it from being returned to the counties, where it rightfully belongs.

Cook county levies only seven cents per $100 for the care of the poor. Returning the job to the counties would have meant that the people of Cook would pay for the care of their own destitute, and that they would pay for the care of their own destitute, and that they would have sought within the county some means of aleviating the economic distress. The same would have happened in the other 101 counties in the state, and Illinois might be finding its way out of the depression much more rapidly at this very moment.

But the relief burden is now being handled on the deferred payment system, and thru a system of general taxation. There is consequently no way of rousing public opinion to solve the problem and end the depression in a constructive way. The problem and the taxpayers are not brought into direct contact one with the other.

We must find a way out, not only in Illinois, but all over the nation. Unless we find such a way, this country will be doled into bankruptcy, and we will be faied with the problem of feeding an unemployed population on empty teeasuries. History proves that chaos has been the resut of such situations in the past.

The Stock Swindle

The smooth oil stock salesman has been taking his thousands from "suckers," even while the engineers of the New Deal have been working feverishly to protect the security investors' cash. Two were nabbed in Milwaukee the other day on complaint of a woman that they had exchanged with her worthless oil stock for $2,500 worth of bonds. They also bilked a sheet metal merchant out of several thousand, took $1,100 from a Cincinnati man, and had in theirr possession a "sucker," list containing the names of 45 St. Louis clergymen.

It does seem taht the American people would learn sometime that it is not possible to get rich quick, and that salesmen with oily tongues are not always selling good oil stock. People are too often willing to exchange good securities or part with actua cash to get something that good business sense tells them would not be put on the market if it were as profitable as its promoters say.

A Poet Laureate

At the next session of Congress a bill will be introduced to create the position of poet laureate of the United States, with a salary of $75 a week. Dr. Paul Cuevas, president of the Poet Laureate League of America, is preparing the bill and will have it introduced. Some Congressman will do the job in the belief that the poets in his district will vote for him.

Poetry is to get a break at last. But the general public will get the worst of the deal. They will not only have to pay the salary of the poet laureate, but they will also have to read his stuff if it is published in current periodicals. The government will also have to pay space rates to get the poems printed, which will be adding insult to injury.

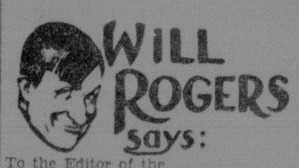

The NRA won't give poets a code because they aren't an industry although Mr. Cuevas has a code all drawn up. It's written in prose, surprisingly enough. The code says publishers must pay poets one-half the amount of the advertising rate for the space the poem consumes. Mr. Cuevas says under the present system of rugged individualism a poet is lucky if he gets 10 smackers for a poem, no matter if it's as long as "the Iliad."

Side Lights

Strange that after the people voted the country wet, nature should make it dry.

Nowadays when Dad wants to kill the fatted calf, he must first ask permission of the AAA to raise it.

When the President gets back to Washington, he will find things about the same, except for more initials on office doors.

To the Editor of the Journal and Courier:

Honolulu, Aug. 4.—Well we are heading for the broad Pacific. It's been a wonderful week here, but it would take months to see it all. They do lots of playing here, but these old missionary families do lots of work too. One good thing about 'em they put all their money right back in the islands. Attorney General Cummings got in yesterday. He is Roosevelt's lawyer and I guess come out to straighten out some devilment his boss got in while here. Huey Long is getting more publicity out here in the papers than Hitler. If I am sea-sick tomorrow you won't hear from me.

Yours, WILL ROGERS.

C. O. Anderson of Jacksonville sent the Hog Commission Company at National Stock Yards, Ill., 55 hogs that sold on Friday's market at $5.25, the extreme top. These hogs averaged 276 pounds, all his own raising and feeding. They were thoroughbred Poland Chinas.

The New Deal in Washington

This is the fifth of a series of articles by Rodney Dutcher, Courier and NEA Washington correspondent, dealing with the more important new governmental agencies in Washington, their aims, and activities.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington, Aug. 4—A job for giants—reform and regulation by telephones, telegraph and broadcasting—has been taken over by the new Federal Communications Commission.

The most sensational part of its immediate duties will be investigation of the $5,000,000,000 telephone monopoly, prior to recommendations to Congress for a regulating system expected to reduce telephone rates.

The two chief phases of FCC's present task are:

1. To administer the regulatory powers over the communications industries formerly held by the Federal Radio Commission, Interstate Commerce Commission, State Department and Postoffice Department.

2. To study the industries and recommend regulatory and coordinating legislation to Congress by Feb. 1. FCC will administer such laws when they are passed.

The second phase is so huge that for the next few months the commission will be primarily a board of inquiry. There are no geniuses on the commission and its results will be achieved by plenty of hard work. Its first job will be to educate itself.

Chairman Sykes Fair and Firm

The old Federal Radio Commission whose duties and staff FCC absorbed, smelled violently of politics and seemed a paradise for lobbyists. The new commission's broadcasting division should be watched carefully.

Eugene Octave Sykes, member of the old FRC since 1927, is chairman. He is a fair, judicially minded Mississippian who never made any enemies—even among the lobbyists who, headed by Bob Jackson and Arthur Mullen, had many FRC cases. He knows a lot about radio.

The "strong man" on FCC probably will be Paul A. Walker, who as chairman of the Oklahoma Public Utilities Commission forced drastic reduction in electricity, gas and cotton gin rates and ably enforced the state oil pro-rata law.

He heads FCC's telephone division and is grimly set on complete investigation and strict regulation for the American Telephone & Telegraph Company.

Walker Will Protect Public Only

"So far as I'm concerned," Walker says, "the commission's only job is to protect the public. The utilities are fully prepared to take care of themselves and none more so than the Belle telephone system."

Herbert L. Pettey is the commission's secretary. As the young representative of Jim Farley and Col. Louis M. Howe, he was credited with dominating the radio commission when he was secretary there, under Sykes.

His friend, Paul D. Spearman, a Sykes protege, is FCC's general counsel. Spearman was once assistant general counsel for FRC, but quit to take up lobbying.

The A. T. & T. investigation has been brewing a long time. Senator Clarence Dill, a sponsor of the communications act, gave up his resolution for a special congressional inquiry only on promise that FCC would undertake it.

Monopoly to Face Searching Quiz

All telephone and telegraph companies have been ordered to submit reports on their corporate set-ups and holdings, interlocking directorates and rates structures.

Among the telephone monopoly's practices to be investigated are: Maintenance of rates during the general price decline. Large write-ups on valuations and depreciation charges, resulting in higher rates. License fees collected by A. T. & T. from subsidiaries everywhere. Holding company abuses.

Other subjects of inquiry will be the tie-up between the Bell companies, A. T. & T. and their purchases of all equipment from the subsidiary Western Electric Company at alleged fancy prices. Reduction of employe wages while high executive salaries were maintaned. Long distance rates. Propaganda methods.

Telegraph Merger May Be Urged

The FCC telegraph division, under Commissioner Irvin Stewart, late of the State Department, must decide how to protect the old line wire companies in the face of radio and ruinous competition from A. T. & T. It probably will recommend merger of the Western Union and Postal systems, now paralleling each other and losing money.

Co-ordination with radio telegraphy and future expansion through radio rather than expensive wire lines are to be expected.

Congress specifically directed FCC to study and report on proposals to set aside a specific block of ether channels for educational, religious, and other non-profit groups. This work is under the broadcasting division, headed by Commissioner Hampson Gary.

There's no available space for new stations and recommendations for non-profit wave lengths may involve an extensive reallocation.

Colorful Baptism Given New Coast Guard Cutter

In a mighty shower of foam and spray, the new coast guard vessel Onondaga slashes sidewise into the waters of Saginaw Bay at Bay City, Mich., in this colorful launching ceremony, a baptism witnessed by hundreds of spectators. The 165-foot craft, of 11,000 tons gross displacement, was christened by Miss Alice Arnold, daughter of Representative W. W. Arnold of Illinois. It will leave soon for duty on the Pacific coast.

Complete Plans for Jersey Farm Picnic

The annual horse show pitching contest will get under way at nine o'clock and will be in vharge of Robert L. Downey.

The senior division championship ball game will start at 10:30. Pleasant Hill, Delhi and Mississippi clubs are tied for first place and they are scheduled to play off the tie before going into the finals.

The Home Bureau stunts will get under way and will be directed by Mrs. Thomas Allen, on the stage of the gradn stand at 10:30 o'clock. Panhandle, Elsah, Delhi and Otterville units are on the schedule which is not yet completed.

The afternoon program in charge of Grover Pearce starts at one p. m., and includes musical numbers, contests for ladies, girls, boys and men.

The principal address of the afternoon will be given by Rev. Father George Nell of the Island Grove parish. Many people from surrounding counties are expected to attend to hear Father Nell's discussion of "The problems of Rural People in the St. Louis Area."

The customary athletic events will be a part of the afternoon schedule. A new feature, a ladies car parking contest, will be in charge of Ira Cottingham. This contest will be against time, in parking a car in position midst an array of barrels arranged to represent obstacles in traffic angles. Each contestant is to use her own car.

The evening session will be opened with a concert by the Jerseyville municipal band.

At the conclusion of the band concert, Father Nell will give an illustarted lecture. The Farm Bureau orchestra under the direction of R. M. Anderson will appear following Father Nell's address. The orchcestra this year is composed of thirty-six pieces, the largest number since its organization.

County Superintendent of Highways Eugene Witt announced Wedesday afternoon that the county highway department plans to start construction within the next few weeks on the motor fuel tax road between Kemper and Fidelity.

All of the motor fuel tax fund available will be expended on that section until the proposed highway is completed.

The new project was rendered possible when the state highway department saw fit to complete the construction of Section 7 MET, the road from state bond issue route 109 to Elsah.

The Jersey County Board of Review since its original session has received ninety complaints from residents of the county who are seeking to have their 1934 property assessments reduced.

A record of all the complaints is kept by John Bloomer, clerk of the board, and beginning next week the group will make a personal investigation of the complaints that have been filed. The members of the board this year are James C. Downey, chairman Jersey county board gf supervisors, ex-officio member; Richard M. Stephenson, Miss Florence Warren and John Bloomer.

Jersey county pure bred Jersey cattle were winners this week at the Christian county fair at Taylorville. The local firm of William L. Scott and Ray Van Meter entered five of their pure bred Jerseys in the show ring at Taylorville and won first prize for senior champion cow, first for bull calf, second on yearling heifer, second for young herd and second for heifer calf.

Next week Scott and Van Meter will enter a large drove of cattle in the competition at Griggsville at the Pike county fair. They are planning to take nine animals to this event.

At the Christian county fair this week the competition in the Jersey class was unusually strong. There were more Jerseys competing in this show that ever before it was stated.

The annual community picnic of the Welhi district will be the 14th of August in Shafer brothers pasture north of Delhi. A potluck dinner will be served.

The date for the picnic was decided at the meeting of the Delhi Blues 4H club the evening of July 27th. The meeting that date was held at the home of Silas Williams near Delhi. The program at that time consisted of the following: Market Report, Robert Heartgraver; Current Events, Everett Williams.

The next meeting of the club i s scheduled to take place the evening of August tenth at the home of C. Sunderland in Delhi.

The twenty acre lake northwsst of Rockbridge known as Foster's Lake is dry for the first time within the recollection of the oldest inhabitants. Johnny Joyce, owner of the preserve, stated that the prolonged drouth had finally sapped the springs which fed the lake.

Several thousand pounds of bass, catfish and carp with which the lake had been stocked were distributed among the residents of the lake vicinity.

The drouth condition in the Rockbridge area is reported to be without an equal in the history of the community. Even the dry year of 1901 did not produce so serious a situation.

Louis E. Groppel, superintendent of schools for Jersey county, has a goat that he is anxious to dispose of. The animal was won by Groppel in a drawing at the recent church picnic at Belletress.

Groppel announced that if he won any of the prizes listed in the drawing that he would turn them back to the church. The officials of St. Michael's church report, however, that they would be unable to determine what to do with the goat if they were to permit its escheat to them.

PICNIC SUPPER

He's shown as he prepared really to put his teeth in a drouth relief act all his own on his hot, dry tour of Louisiana.

DOCTOR, CORONER CALL BOY DEAD; THEN COP RESTORES HIS LIFE

By Dale Harrison

Manchasset, N. Y., Aug. 4—(AP)—The boy was dead. The doctor said so. The coroner concurred. They called the undertaker.

Everyone in the crowd gathered on the dock when the lad, Stanley Kadluboski, 10 years old, was hauled from Manhasset Bay early last night agreed. No one can stay under water ten minutes and live.

A doctor examined the body. No pulse, no breathing, no movement. The boy was dead.

The coroner came, shouldered his way through. The group gathered about the still form and made a brief examination. He executed the papers of death. One cannot drown in Manhasset Bay except there be coroner's papers later to make it official. An hour passed; then another.

The crowd remained, awaiting the arrival of the undertaker.

John Symes of the Nassau county police was present. He was not too experienced with tragedy of the sea, but at police school he had paid attention to the course on life saving.

As they waited for the hearce, Symes stepped forward.

"Let me show you fellows how they taught us to save lives at the police school," he remarked.

The policeman bent over the body of the boy who had been pronounced dead two hours before. The steady pumping of arms, the pushing of chest began. Artificial respiration.

The coroner had completed his report and waited impatiently for the undertaker. Dr. David Gurin stood nearby, likewise waiting.

The limp arms of Stanley Kadluboski were being pumped rythmically as Officer Symes warmed up to his exhibition of police school methods of life saving.

One of Stanley Kadluboski's eyelids fluttered. It wasn't much, but Dr. Gurin saw it and leaped forward. Life!

A few minutes later the boy, holding in his left hand a certificate stating he departed this life at 7:25 p. m., was shaking hands with the coroner.

This Breakfast Just Rattled With Merriment

It was a rattling good event, the annual breakfast of the Post-Mortem Club, pictured here in a Chicago hotel, with the toastmaster keeping up a clatter of merriment for the guests, doctors of naaprapathy from all over the nation. Probably the first speechless toastmaster ever to sit at a festal board, J. M. McAdou, late of Florida, founder of the club, scored a tremendous hit with the merrymakers as he grinned out at them, cigaret dangling from his jaws. All members of the club signed a scroll bequeathing their skeletons to the organization, as had McAdou, the founder.

Hundreds Slain as Chinese Troops Put Communists to Rout

Shanghai, Aug. 4—(AP)—The Chinese government today claimed its troops had smashed a communist rebellion in Fukien Province and saved the city of Foochow from threatened capture. Censorship, however, was sharp and details of the fighting were not available.

Earlier unconfirmed reports received at Hong Kong said the communists had broken through government forces to capture the city of Shuikow and were menacing the important port of Foochow.

The British warship Witch arrived at Foochow this afternoon.

Hundreds were slain when the government, only after extended fighting, suppressed a rebellion in Fukien Province last December.

Nationalist airplanes bombed the city of Foochow and an American warship went there to protect lives and property of citizens of the United States.

A "Nationalist People's Government" was established last year in Fukein Province, "breeding place of revolutions," in opposition to the Nanking government. It was modelled along communistic lines.

Leaders attacked General Issimo Chiang Kai-Shek, head of the nationalist administration, and "Japanese Imperialism."

The famous 19th route army, which bore the brunt of fighting against the Japanese troops in the battles over Manchuria two years ago, supported the revolution but was finally forced into disordered retreat by Kai-Shek's troops.

HINDENBURG TO BE BURIED IN TANNERBURG MEMORIAL

Berlin, Aug. 4—(AP)—The German government decided finally today that the late President Paul Von Hindenburg will be entombed in the memorial at Tannenberg instead of on the grounds of his estate at Neudeck where he had expressed his wish to lie.

Until today, the authorities in Berlin and members of the household at Neudeck have been in disagreement as to the final disposition of the field marshal's body, following the state funeral next Tuesday.

Austrian Leaders Honor Dollfuss

This was scene in the courtyard of the Austrian Chancellory when the government leaders gathered to pay their last respects to the slain Chancellor Dollfuss. Left to right, in foreground are President Miklas, Major Emil Fey (Minister of Police) and Prince Ernst von Starhemberg. The new Chancellor, Dr. Karl Schuschnigg, is at the extreme right.

FIND DYNAMITE NEAR RAILROAD OVER WHICH ROOSEVELT TRAVELED

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 4—(AP)—A sack of dynamite and percussion caps found lying near the railroad right-of-way over which President Roosevelt's train passed early today led to extreme precautions of federal and county officers to avoid any attempt against the Presidential train.

Roosevelt's train passed over the spot, two and a half miles southwest of Spokane, without any untoward incident.

The explosives were discovered by a Union Pacific agent four days ago who became suspicious of three men he saw depositing a package. Sighting through a watch tower door, the agent directed searchers to the spot where the cache was hidden in the brush.

"We thought possibly the dynamite might have been intended for the President's train," said Sheriff George Miles today in disclosing the discovery, "and we were taking no chances."

For four days a heavily armed body of secret service men and sheriff's deputies watched the spot.

"We kept the guard there," Miles said, "to capture the men if they returned for the explosives."

TIGERS SMOTHER WHITE SOX 16-4

Detroit, Aug. 4.—(AP)—For the second successive day the league leading Tigers counted their runs in double figures today as they pounded Sad Sam Jones and Joe Heving for 19 hits to make it two straight over the Chicago White Sox, 16 to 4.

Hank Greenberg contributed a home run to the slaughter, with two men on base and also a double and a single. Al Simmons got a home run for the Sox.

Clarence (Red) Phillips, the six-foot "baby" of the Tiger pitching staff, started his first big league game and went the route, although he was touched for 12 hits. Sensational fielding saved him from serious damage.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Five Cleveland pitchers were unable to prevent the St. Louis Browns from hitting safely in every inning today as St. Louis defeated Cleveland, 8 to 7.

Oral Hildebrand, Cleveland right hander who started in the box, was recalled in the fifth inning after yielding six runs and ten hits. The Browns got away to a one-run lead in the first inning and were never overhauled, although the Indians scored two runs in the fourth inning and three in the fifth.

Earl Averill hit his seventeenth home run of the season for the Tribe in the last half of the ninth inning.

JACK DEMPSEY HAS DAUGHTER

New York, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Joan Hannah Dempsey weighed in today at the Plyclinic hospital at 7 pounds, 3 ounces.

She's the daughter of Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion of the world, and his wife, Hannah Williams, of the stage.

Jack, nervously pacing the hospital corridors prior to the birth, had said: "I sure hope its a boy. I want to match him with Gene Tunney's kid as soon as they're big enough.

Finally out came the nurse.

"It's a girl, Mr. Dempsey."

For a moment, Jack's face was puzzling. Then a beam, a grin, that proud possessive look.

"Hurray," he cried out. "I love little girls."

The former champion couldn't see his wife for an hour. So he hastened to their hotel, spread the news around the lobby—and around the town. So completely did he dominate the scene that a cynic companion asked:

"Who had this baby, anyway?"

The mother and baby are doing fine.

"We had agreed," Dempsey said, "that whether it was a boy or girl, Hannah could choose the first name and I'd choose the second. So Hannah said "Joan," because it sound like me. I guess, and I said 'Hannah.'"

Dempsey said the baby had his black hair, Mrs. Dempsey's eyes and mouth and was "a very pretty baby, indeed."

ALVIN CROWDER SOLD TO TIGERS

Washington, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The sale of "General" Alvin Crowder, veteran right-handed pitcher, to the Detroit Tigers via the waiver route was announced today by Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Nationals.

That means that the pitcher who took 24 games last year to tie Bob Grove for wins in the American league brought his owners $4,000.

Crowder, 33 years old, had been unable to produce this year. He had won four and lost 10. In 1932 he pitched more innings than any other American league hurler, won the most games—26—and allowed the most hits. In eight years in the American league he has won 142 and lost 101.

Fourteen thousand books are published in England annually.

GIANTS, PHILLIES SPLIT TWIN BILL

Philadelphia, Aug. 4. — (AP) — The Phillies turned back the league leading Giants 5 to 4 today in the opening game of a double-header, but they couldn't stand against the record-smashing attack the world's champions put on in the second encounter and went down, 21 to 4.

The even break cost the Giants a half game of their lead as Chicago won a single contest and reduced the the New York margin to 2½ games.

Two major league records fell before the Giant bats in the afterpiece. Topped off an already decided game by scoring eleven runs off Reggie Grabowski in the ninth to surpass the previous ninth inning mark of ten counters. Since 1900 five clubs, Boston, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh in the National League and Detroit and New York in the American, had scored ten runs in the ninth.

Mel Ott, the young walloper who patrols right field, established the other mark when he got on base six times and scored on each occasion. The all-time big league record is seven runs in one game, made by Guy Hecker of the Louisville American Association club in 1886 and several other players have scored six times but none in "modern" baseball since 1900. Ott hit his 27th and 28th home runs in successive appearances at the plate in the third and fourth frames, added a double and single, walked once and was hit by a pitched ball.

The opening contest was marked by a Giant triple play in the third inning when Hughey Critz speared Etthan Allen's liner, tossed to Bill Terry to catch Lou Chiozza off first and Terry relayed the ball to Travis Jackson to get Dick Bartell off second.

SENATORS DRUB RED SOX 7 TO 5

Boston, Aug. 4—(AP)—Washington halted pitcher Wesley Ferrell's winning streak of five straight games by defeating the Boston Red Sox 7 to 5 in ten innings today.

The teams entered the ninth inning with Boston leading 4 to 3, but the Senators tied the score on two singles and a long fly.

Two hits, an international pass and two Boston errors gave the Senators three runs in the tenth. Manager Cronin doubled and with two out, Ferrell intentionally walked Travis. Harris then singled to right and Cronin and Travis scored while Reynolds fumbled the ball. Alec McColl hit a short fly to Cissell, who dropped the ball, allowing Harris to score.

The Sox scored one more run in their half of the last inning on singles by Morgan and Reynolds and an error by center fielder Schulte.

CARDINALS WHIP PIRATES 6 TO 4

St. Louis, Aug. 4—(AP)—Dizzy Dean, who went the route yesterday, came to faltering Tex Carleton's aid today as the Cardinals defeated the Pirates, 6 to 4, to make it two straight for the series.

Dean took over the pitching in the 8th after two Pirates had scored and struck out Grace to end the inning.

Helped along by two errors by shortstop Arky Vaughan, the Cardinals scored four runs in the sixth to drive southpaw Larry French from the mound.

Manager Frankie Frisch of the Cardinals was out of action because of an ailing leg.

WIN TITLE

Danville, Ill., Aug. 4—(AP)—The Berwyn Post team, Cook county champion, won the State Junior American Legion baseball title today by an 8 to 7 victory over Gillespie, the downstate winner. Berwyn won the first game of the two out of three series yesterday, 6 to 0.

Berwyn came from behind and crammed all its scoring into the fourth, fifth and sixth innings. The Cook county team will meet the Kansas-Missouri-Iowa winner for the sectional title at Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 11-12.

Chicago, Aug. 4—(AP)—Guy Bush, recovered from his recent illness, returned to the starting mound for the first time in more than two weeks today to stifle the Cincinnati Reds with two hits and give the Cubs the second game of the series, 4 to 1.

The Reds didn't get a hit until the seventh and the lone run they scored then was unearned due to a two base wild throw by First Baseman Don Hurst. A ninth inning double by Gordon Slade was the only other safe blow off the veteran right-hander who was ringing up his season's 12th victory. He walked three and three other batters were safe on infield errors.

Gabby Hartnett and Kiki Cuyler gave Bush his main offensive support. Hartnett's 16th homer in the fourth inning followed Cuyler's single for the first two Cub runs, while Cuyler's triple and a long fly to Hartnett, which Comorosky muffed, were the chief ingredients of the Cubs' other two runs in the sixth.

TOMMY ARMOUR CAPTURES OPEN

Toronto, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Tommy Armour, the silver Scot from Chicago, staved off the closing rush of young Ky Laffoon of Denver, today to win the Canadian open golf championship for the third time with a 72 hole medal aggregate of 287 strokes.

Laffoon, with a closing burst of fine shot making for a 68 on the last eighteen, added to the 71 he shot this morning in the first round of today's closing 36 holes, made up considerable ground to take second place with a total of 289 strokes, two back of the slim Scotch master of iron play.

Bracketed in third place with totals of 292 were Harry Cooper of Chicago, 1932 winner, Willie MacFarlane, of Tuckahoe, N. Y., and Young Fay Coleman of Culver City, Cal., who might have had second place all to himself but for a disasterous finish on the last hole that nearly cost him even his third place tie.

Coleman was matching the short Lakewood par 70 when he teed off for the final hole needing only a par four for 286 and second place. A birdie three would have given him a tie with Armour, winner of the title in 1927 and 1930.

Instead of getting either, Coleman drove into the rough and wound up with a terrible eight. On top of that a protest was entered that he took more than the allowed five minutes to search for a lost ball, but tournament officials overruled the protest.

Once more professionals from below the border dominated the play as they have for many years. The first Canadian in the final list was Lex Robson of Toronto, who tied for sixth place with Al Watrous of Birmingham, Mich., with an aggregate of 294. Bill Mehlhorn of Louisville and Herman Barron and Jimmy Hines, New York pros, were bracketed behind them at 295.

Leo Diegel of Philadelphia, four time holder of the title who shot a record shattering 65 on the opening day and never recovered from it, landed in tenth place with 296. A 71 this morning after a horrible 82 yesterday put him back in the fight, but he closed a most erratic performance with a final 78.

The most brilliant shot making of the closing day went to a pair of veterans who previously had shot themselves out of any possibility of winning. After puttering around in the lofty 70's for two days, Walter Hagen broke forth with a 66 this morning, and then drifted back into the ruck with a closing 81 for 303.

Gene Sarazen, who had been little better, woke up on the second round today and carded a 68. Then he slowed again in the morning round with a 78, however, and wound up with 299.

Phil Farley of Toronto made the best showing of the amateurs, finishing with 301. C. Ross "Sandy" Somerville, only Canadian ever to win the United States amateur, wound up with 306.

FRANKIE PARKER DEFEATS GRANT

Southampton, L. I., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Climaxing a brilliant comeback after wallowing for two weeks in the morass of defeat, Frankie Parker, 18-year-old Spring Lake, N. J., boy, conquered Bitsy Grant of Atlanta, Ga., in straight sets this afternoon to annex the singles laurels in the final round of the Meadow Club's forty-fourth annual invitation tennis tournament.

Parker outplayed Grant by a thin margin in the first set, out-steadied him in a prolonged second chapter and then sped through a love set to chalk up a 6-3, 9-7, 6-0 victory over the diminutive national clay court champion.

The result, registered before a capacity crowd of 2,000 members of the local society colony, was a decided upset. For not only did Grant outrank his conqueror nationally by one place, but he was also listed two notches higher in the seeding.

Superior condition, the factor which turned the balance of victory toward Frankie in his upset triumph over Berkeley Bell yesterday, was once again the determining factor in his win today.

Grant's collapse was so complete that after the match he dropped to the ground, exhausted, and it was several minutes before he could walk off the courts. The oppressive heat had affected him much more than it troubled his perfectly trained young opponent.

BRAVES WALLOP DODGERS 5 TO 3

Brooklyn, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Baxter Jordan's three base hit, coupled with a wild return of the ball by Len Koenecke, broke up a 13-inning ball game today and the Braves gained a 5 to 3 decision over the Dodgers. Wally Berger socked his 24th home run to add an extra counter.

Van Mungo, seeking his 14th victory, lost a chance to win an regulation time when Randy Moore hit for the circuit with Berger on base in the seventh.

Brooklyn filled the bases twice in the extra innings but was stopped by a double play once and by a force-out the second time.

Defeat Lukeman-Moriarty in Thrilling Five Set Battle; Open Match Set For Monday

Four gold medals would have been more appropriate to award yesterday, but the team of Kesinger and Thomas, Greene and Jersey county doubles champions last year, were just a wee bit better in the pinches than Jack Moriarty and Elmer Lukeman, and the White Hall lads pulled off a thrilling five set victory which twice went to duece sets.

Thus the third of the Journal-Courier's seventh annual tennis champions were crowned. Only one match remains to be decided, and that is the one between Elmer Lukeman two time city champion and Jett Sunderland, Jerseyville, district champion. The match will begin at three o'clock Monday afternoon on the MacMurray college courts where the tournament has been held this year.

There was little to choose between the two teams, so evenly were they matched. Both teams fired hard, rushed the net, and played for placements. Both teams put on rallies to pull sets out of the fire. Both teams fought with every ounce of energy. It wasn't until the last set that the White Hall team took a lead, and then not until the set had been dueced.

The open match promises to be just as thrilling as the doubles final. Lukeman, defending open champion and a careful placement player, and Sunderland, who puts a half drive on almost every shot, appear to be evenly matched. The match is expected to develop plenty of volleying, plenty of rallies, and lots of fireworks.

Loca Team Wins First Set

The opening set of the tournament was a criterion of what was to follow. Moriarty and Lukeman took the first two games of the set, and White Hall captured a game on Thomas' service. Leading 5-3, the Jacksonville team lost on Kesinger's service, and broke through Moriarty's service to duece up the set at five all.

Moriarty and Lukeman took Thomas' service and Lukeman won his to win the first set 7-5.

Opening the second set, service appeared to mean a victory for the other team. Thomas lost his service 4 points to 1, Moriarty dropped four points to two, Kesinger lost his with a love count, and Lukeman lost his 4-2 before the break came. Kesinger pulled out a duece game to break the spell. The White Hall team won a love game from Moriarty, and Thomas' low bouncing service was too much for the locals and he won a duece game to take a 5-2 lead. Lukeman broke the string of victories by taking a duece game on his service, and Kesinger lost a 4-2 game to make the count 5-4, before Kesinger and Thomas puffeed Moriarty's shots for a set victory in a duece game.

Where the tide seemed to flow one way in the second set, it seemed to ebb during the third. Thomas and Lukeman won their services, but Kesinger lost a love game. Moriarty had a love game coming up, but served five sets of double faults before he marked up a victory. Thomas broke the run by keeping the Jacksonville lads scooping for the ball, but Lukeman won his service, and Kesinger lost his in a long duece game. Moriarty took the final game to give the team a 6-2 set.

Tie Up Match

The fortunates changed again in the fourth set. Games followed service until the score was 4-3 for the champions, and then they broke through Moriarty's drives to make it 5-3, and won the set on Thomas' service, 6-3.

With the match evened up at two sets each, both teams began playing more carefully than they had all through the first four sets. They watched every shot like hawks, did not strike at balls which might land outside the playing court, and the result was that games followed service until the set stood at five games each.

Then the Jacksonville team appeared to get a little over eager. Lukeman drove three points into the net attempting to make kills, and Moriarty fired a point out of bounds to give up his service. Thomas came to the base line again, and ran out the set quickly, the team leading 3-1 before the final point. The final point was decided on a shot down the alley by Thomas, Moriarty letting the ball go by and chasing it, but arriving too late to return it when he saw it hit in bounds.

The local team proved themselves to be sharpshooters preferring net play to base line shooting. The White Hall lads, on the other hand, rushed the net only occasionally, being forced to remain in the back court because of the rushing and smashing tactics of the local team. Thomas was particularly effective with his left handed base line defense, firing low shots across the net at times that had little bounce, and prevented the local team from making overhead drives.

Kesinger and Thomas appeared to be a little more accustomed to firing under a handicap, for they played a steady consistant game from start to finish. Lukeman and Moriarty had flashes of superior fom, but they could not maintain the pace over the five set route, and they were unable to dispose of Kesinger and Thomas in the three set minimum.

It was a thrilling match to watch for it was filled with tense situations, sharp shooting, accurate placing and sensational returns. All of the players returned shots which seemed impossible to reach or make. All of the players fired shots that went straight at the opponents, and they were usually sent with full speed, in hopes that the opponent would be unable to cover quickly enough.

Humber also won the 75-yard dash in 8.5 seconds and as a result took a commanding lead on points in the senior class.

Forty Mexican and eight American youths engaged in the pentathlon, which drew a crowd of 5,000 spectators at the opening of the two-day meet.

Select August 16 as Date Of Nichols Park Swimming Meet; Many Teams Invited

August 16 of this year is the date set for the annual Nichols Park water carnival, Wilson Vorbeck, manager of the park pool, announced last night. This years' carnival will be the largest that local citizens have ever had the opportunity to witness according to the manager.

Letters are being written to many Illinois cities inviting them to send teams.

Peoria has already signified its intention of sending a team. Peoria has been undefeated in state competition for the past several years and is sure to give Jacksonville swimming fans a real show.

Altogether there will be sixteen events with medals being awarded to the winning swimmers, cups to the divers, individual awards to the victorious relay team, and a statue trophy to the high point winner of the entire carnival. Entrants may compete in any four events. Jacksonville swimmers are urged to enter and give the out of town teams a real fight. Teams from this city have not showed up so well in recent years against strong teams from other parts of the state. However, with the increased enthusiasm in swimming meets that has been evident during the last two summers, it is expected that Jacksonville will be right up in the running.

As in the past years, a large crowd is anticipated for the evening of the carnival. Last summer around four thousand people were in attendance and an even greater number should be on hand a week from next Thursday, to watch swimmers from all over the state show their stuff. One change that has been made in this year's program is the elimination of all junior events. This was thought to be advisable in view of the fact that there will be more senior swimmers than ever before and also since the Fourth of July meet was especially for the younger group. Anyway the big boys and girls will hold full sway this summer.

Although several new records were set last summer, Jacksonville fans can look forward to races that are faster yet when the teams get into action again. Diving events, always popular with the audience, are expected to be more interesting than ever with several new contestants that have not had a chance to show local people what they can do.

The complete list of officials has not yet been completed, but the events in the order in which they will be held are as follows:

50 yard free style for women.

PLAYERS BATTLE FOR SWAT HONORS

New York, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Lou Gehrig of the Yankees, whose mighty swatting feats have aroused fandom to a new peak of interest in the last couple of days, was the leading figure in the past week, when a lot of interesting developments took place in the struggle for American league batting honors and very few in the National league race.

The pace setter, Heinie Manush of Washington, remained on the bench most of the time and his loss was only two points as he hit four times in 12 attempts. That gave him as .395 average when the figures were rounded up after yesterday's games.

Gehrig, meanwhile, collected 16 safe blows, including six home runs, in 30 trips to the plate. He sent his average up 13 points to .378 and moved from fifth place to second among the league leaders.

Paul Waner, National league leader, equalled par for the week in the elder loop when he hit eleven times in 29 trips to the plate. That sent his average up two points to .361 and gave him a four-point margin over Bill Terry of New York, who dropped one point.

REYNOLDA WINS FEATURE STAKE

Salem, N. H., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Reynolda, three-year-old trotting son of the Laurel Hall, today jumped into the front rank of Hambletonian stake contenders by sweeping two of the three heats from several other promising candidates in the $4,500 stake event that featured the Grand Circuit's lengthy program at Rockingham Park.

After finishing third to the favorite, Kentucky's Muscleton in the first heat, Henry M. Knight's brown gelding was driven to two consecutive wins by M. Childs. C. W. Phellis' Emily Stokes, of New York, another eligible for the Hambletonian stake, placed behind Muscleton in the first start. The Hanover Shoe Farm's Bertha C. Hanover finished second to Reynolda in the second start and J. Baker's The Gem from Chicago was the place horse in the third mile heat.

George P. McDonald's Calumet Climatic from Beverly, Mass. paced the second fastest mile of the New England "Big Chain" meeting when he led seven rivals home in the $1,500 claiming race for a $1,000 purse, in which the Toledo, O., entry, Estrellita, placed, and Charles Murray's Rhineworthy from Bangor, Me., showed at 2:02 2-5.

BIEN FAIT WINS SCHANK HANDICAP

Chicago, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Bien Fait, racing under the colors of W. C. Stroube, of Corsicana, Texas, captured the second running of the John C. Schank memorial handicap at Hawthorne today, winning by a nose from New Deal, which carried the silks of J. W. Parrish, banker of Midway, Ky.

Bien Fait ran the mile and a sixteenth in 1:44 3-5, just one second off the track record. Bien Fait paid $10.76 to win, $ .64 to place and $3.64 to show. New Deal, which went to the post favorite, paid $3.84 to place and $2.92 to show. The show price on Frank Ormont, a 30 to 1 shot which finished third, was $7.18.

Sailing into the lead soon after the start, Bien Fait, 3 year old son of Bubbling Over and Bon Voyage, set the pace all the way and just lasted to score his victoy. New Deal stumbled and nearly went to his knees while making the first turn and was shuffled back but came on with a burst of speed at the finish and might have won it in another jump. Navanod, a 40 to 1 shot in the watering, trailed Bien Fait most of the way and finished fourth.

MANAGERS IN YMCA LEAGUE WILL MEET

Twilight managers in the Y.M.C.A. hard ball league will meet Monday night at 8:30 o'clock at the home of A. D. Hermann, secretary of the league to discuss plans for another round of games. The question of whether it will be too dark to play further games has been raised, but in view of the interest created by the league this year, there are several managers said to be in favor of continuing the league for another round.

Every effort will be made at the coming meeting to move the time of starting games ahead a half an hour in order to get away from the darkness problem.

BALLADIER WINS U. S. HOTEL STAKE

By Orlo Robertson
Associated Press Sports Writer

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 4—(AP)—Balladier, E. R. Bradley's candidate for two-year old turf honors, ran like a true champion today as he whipped nine ranking juveniles in the 32nd running of the United States Hotel stakes at Saratoga for his second straight victory.

The good-looking black colt, a son of Black Toney which made his debut only four days ago, set all the pace and in the stretch drew clear to finish the six furlongs with three lengths to spare over C. V. Whitney's today. The Whitney colt, which has yet to show the class of his famous sire, Whichone, just managed to head Mrs. James M. Austin's Polar Flight out of the place.

The expected duel between William Woodward's Pitter Pat and Mrs. W. S. Kilmer's Try Sympathy, which fought it out in the flash stakes with the former getting the decision, failed to materialize when the former was scratched. His stablemate, Omaha, closed a big gap, however, to take fourth place in front of Try Sympathy.

By far the largest crowd of the meeting, estimated at close to 15,000, made Balladier the 3 to 1 choice to win the purse of $5,450. Try Sympathy, which opened as the favorite, received to 16 to 5.

The 32nd running of the Saratoga handicap, the secondary feature, resulted in a much closer finish with Mrs. John D. Hertz's Watch Him gaining a head decision over Mr. Khayyam for the winner's portion of the purse, $3,500. Faireno was a tired third, two lengths back, while Caesar's Ghost, winner last year, finished fourth after setting the early pace. Watch Him, favorite at 7 to 5, ran the one and one-quarter miles in the unimpressive time of 2:06 3-5.

YANKEES TROUNCE ATHLETICS 5-1

New York, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Babe Ruth returned to action after a day's rest today and resumed his old role as leader of the Yankees in a 5 to 1 triumph over the Athletics.

In contrast to his last appearance, when he couldn't get a hit, the Babe smashed his 18th home run of the year with two aboard in the fifth to give the Yanks the lead and added a double to it. Jack Saltzgaver's circuit swat in the seventh scored the other Yankee runs.

Jimmy Deshong, who held the A's to one hit a week ago, was touched for nine blows, but gained his fifth straight victory with the aid of brilliant backing.

SOFT BALL TEAMS FORM NEW LEAGUE

A meeting of the managers of the Y.M.C.A. Playground Baseball League was held at the home of Y Secretary Hermann last night to make arrangements for another round of playground ball. Of the original group of eight teams, five are anxious to continue play. A sixth team is at present being organized from some of the players of the teams which are dropping out as well as other persons who would like to enjoy the sport, the new team to be called the "All America." Any persons who are interested in joining this team are asked to call Mr. Hermann at his residence, YMCA Phone No. 179.

At the meeting it was agreed that changes in the team lineup may be made until the 15th of the month, after which no changes may be made. It was also agreed to play five games during the week instead of three, most of the teams thus getting to play two games each week. Games are to be scheduled for 5:30 instead of 6:00 in order to have more use of the daylight. Each team is to be assessed one dollar to be used for expenses in connection with the building of a backstop and other items.

Several opportunities for playing out of town teams have been received and are being accepted by some of the teams. The City Employes, hereafter to be known as the Fox Illinois, are playing a number of these out of town games.

The schedule of the new series is as follows:

Monday, Aug. 6—Fox Illinois vs. Shoe Workers.
Tuesday, Aug. 7—Grace M. E. vs. Clothers.
Wednesday, Aug. 8—Fox Illinois vs. Grace M. E.

With The Big Six

By the Associated Press

Lou Gehrig's spurt toward the top of the Big Six received a set-back yesterday when he not only failed to get a hit in his two official times at bat but lost one which previously had been credited to him through a check-up of the official scores. As a result has average dropped four points to .374. He gained on Heine Manush, however, as the leader lost five points when he returned to full time action by failing to connect in five times up. Mel Ott snatched last place in the sextet from his national league rivals when six hits, including two homers, in eight trips to the plate, shoved his mark up eight points to .352.

Ousts Locals in Race for District Title in Game Played Yesterday on New Berlin Field; Springfield Takes Early Lead for Winning Margin.

New Berlin, Aug. 4.—The Sangamon County Farm Bureau won the district title here this afternoon by defeating the Morgan County entry in the farm league by a score of 4 to 2. The Morgan county players were in a position last week to win the title but were given a big walloping at Springfield, and the Sangamon players bore down in the pinches today to annex the title.

The Sangamon team pushed across one run each in the first four innings on seven of the nine hits they collected off C. Weber, on the mound for the Morgan clan, the early lead proving to be the winning margin. The Morgan lads scored one run in the fourth and one in the sixth and got only five hits off the slants of Fitzhugh.

757 FAMILIES IN GREENE COUNTY ARE ON RELIEF

Twelve Thousand Dollars Paid Out; Other News From Carrollton

Carrollton, Ill., Aug. 4—According to a monthly bulletin issued by the Illinois Emergency Relief commission, during the month of May relief was distributed in Greene county to 757 families, and a total of $12,038.81 of relief was given out. It cost $1,393.82 to distribute that relief to the 757 families in this county during that one month.

August 1 was the last day for paying taxes in Greene County, without added penalty. County Treasurer Jule Hubbard went to Springfield last week, seeking permission for an extension of time for payment on the final installment of the tax, but this was refused for the reason that county court in this county convenes on the first Monday in September, and at that time judgment must be given on delinquent taxes in order that notice may be given for tax sales on the second Monday.

Secretary Combrink of the Wheat Association received notice Monday from George S. Farrell, chief of the wheat section, that Greene County is one of the counties included in the chinch bug area of Illinois in which wheat contract signers are not required to plant in the fall of the present year the 54 per cent minimum requirement of wheat. This will not in any way affect the benefit payment of the contract singer who does not sow any wheat this fall, but he will be required to lay out his contract acres, as called for by his contract.

BUREAUCRACY IS FLAYED BY SEARCY

West Union, Ill., Aug. 4.—"If gluttonous bureaucracy doesn't call off the political wolves that are snapping at American arglculture and industry and devouring honest earnings of these classes under the guise of regimentation and 'management,' there soon won't be even bones left for these carnivora to gnaw upon," declared State Senator Earl B. Searcy, of Springfield, at the Old York reunion near here this afternoon. Searcy was the chief Republican speaker at the picnic which drew a huge crowd not only from Clark county, but from the east central portion of the state.

"Democratic leadership seems to proceed on the theory that Illinois and the nation can be taxed back to prosperity," continued Searcy. "Professor Tugwell calls us 'tories' because we oppose the avalanche of taxation that is strangling this country. He had better brush up on his colonial and Revolutionary War history. Mr. Farley, the New York Tammany boss, whom the country accepts as the President's political ambassador, says we are 'ghost dancers.' Mr. Farley had to come to Illinois to find out what a chinch-bug is. His interest in the Illinois farmer, except as a political chattel, probably is commensurate. General Johnson is trying to get out from under NRA, and who can blame him? Bees' nests were made to run from, not live with.

"The said fact in the matter is that, due to the taking up of slack and surplus all along the line, business in the country a few months ago was ready to take a new grip upon itself and go ahead. But, what, instead, is happening? Mortally afraid that bureaucratic parasites will hover about and take earnings from him in the name of taxes as fast as he produces, the average business men and farmer today is in a deeper fog than ever before. If the Democratic management only had sense enough to abolish the paternalistic features of NRA and repeal all processing taxes, the farmer, who holds forty per cent of the buiving power, and the business man would take new heart; and real restoration of confidence would begin. You can't stand over a man who's doing his best, and club him into doing better. It isn't human nature."

HITLER SPEECH MAY REVEAL HIS FUTURE COURSE

of Czecho-Slovakia, which said he is half Jewish.

(Streicher has been a prominent Nazi leader and campaigner against Jews, whom he accused in one issue of his paper of plotting to kill Hitler. That issue was suppressed by the police several days after it appeared.)

That even government circles are pervaded by a consciousness that some people are asking just how Hitler's assumption of the president's functions is to be explained legally was indicated by an order from the propaganda minister to the press.

Editors were forbidden to comment on the legal aspects of the cabinet's action in sweeping away the constitutional amendment providing that the chief justice of the supreme court become interim president until elections could be held to fill a vacancy.

The government made public today the text of the question to be submitted at the popular plebiscite August 19.

The ballot will contain the letter of Hitler to Wilhelm Frick, minister of the interior, outlining his desire to have the functions without the title of the president and the discontinuance of the office.

Also will be printed the cabinet's law ordering the plebiscite, and this question will be asked:

"Do you, German man, and you, German woman, agree to regulations provided in this law?"

There will be spaces to vote yes and no, but none in which to write the name of any candidate.

BEATTY FAVORS BIGGER NAVY

Portsmouth, England, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Britain must "repudiate the shackles of the London treaty" and build a big navy, Earl Beatty, first sea lord of the admiralty, declared today at the opening of navy week.

On the 20th anniversary of Britain's entry into the world war, the man who commanded the grand fleet during 1916 and 1919 asserted that the nation must add a large number of cruisers to the sea armaments of the empire.

The earl, by inference, named Germany as the chief disturbing point in Europe today in a fashion similar to that 20 years ago.

"One false step during the last few weeks might have set the whole of Europe ablaze once more," the admiral said, adding that Britain's lack of cruise, strength was "deplorable."

ORDER HIGHWAY HEAD REMOVED

Bismarck, N. D., Aug. 4.—(AP)—The state supreme court ordered Frank A. Vogel, state highway commissioner, removed from office in an opinion filed this afternoon.

Removal of Vogel grew out of his conviction, with ousted Gov. William Langer, of conspiracy to defraud the United States government. Vogel is under 13 months sentence.

At the same time the court held that Burt M. Sailsbury of Minnewaukan, appointed highway commissioner by Acting Gov. Ole H. Olson, is the legal highway commissioner. The court decided on removal by a four to one vote.

Cogel has refused to vacate the office, although a successor to him ahad been named, until he a had been named, until he was "legally removed."

Vogel expressed himself as satisfied with the decision of the court.

$00,000 ON RELIEF ROLLS IN 23 STATES

Scattered rains during the past week lowered temperatures, but did not benefit crops except in a few sections.

Private August estimates placed the corn crop at 1,658 million bushels, a reduction of 455,000,000 bushels from the official estimate a month earlier. The estimated corn production indicated the smallest crop in 33 years. The 1927-31 average was 2,516 million bushels.

Drought-stinted corn in some sections was not even usable as fodder. With other feed crops also scarce, federal and state authorities urged farmers to conserve every bit of livestock feed possible against a threatened severe shortage this winter.

"Feed strawstacks, don't burn them" Gov. Alf. M. Landon of Kansas advised farmers.

F. A. Silcox, federal forester, told a meeting of cattlemen at Flagstaff, Ariz., that the cattle industry in the west is facing a crisis because of barren ranges. He pictured a new "American desert" as result of close grazing, and said there were "too many animals for the available range."

The present condition of crops, forage and livestock in four midwestern states was reported as follows:

Missouri—United States Weather Bureau Crop Bulletin reported 80 to 90 per cent of corn over the state is without ears. About 40 per cent of the corn is not even making fodder. Much corn fed to livestock or cut for silage. Very little alfalfa is yielding a third cutting. Nearly all gardens, pastures and forage are dried up. Potatoes mostly poor and rotting in the ground. Appled badly damaged, sunburned, small and many dropping. Forest trees dying in some places. Water shortage very serious on many farms and in some villages.

Iowa—Crops in the southern three tiers of counties virtually wiped out by what is described as the worst drought in Iowa's history. Northern half of the state still in relatively good condition. Small chance for much fodder over the state. Considerable livestock reported dying and being shot because of lack of feed. Hay, soybeans, and other forage crops in southern half of state practically without water supply. Small towns forced to ration water supplies.

Illinois—Weather bureau crop report said the condition of corn over the state is variable, and the crop generally deteriorated during the past week. Meadows and pastures mostly fair to a failure. Considerable second-crop alfalfa cut, and soy bean yield is promising. Truck and potatoes mostly only fair to a failure. Fruit crop poor.

Wisconsin—Grains and pastures improved generally by rains, but more rain needed. Corn in good condition.

JOHN SULLIVAN IS NAMED CHIEF OF DETECTIVES

Chicago Newspaper Claims Dillinger Case is Responsible

Chicago, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The Daily Times tonight declared that the Dillinger case was responsible for the elevation of Lieut. John L. Sullivan to the position of detective chief replacing the veteran William H. Schoemaker.

The change was announced today and the official statement said that "Shoes" was taking "a rest" because of his health.

Said The Times:

"The two instances causing the upheaval were:

"1. Dillinger, roaming at will in the police building and going into the anteroom of Schoemaker's office during the time he was being sought, without being recognized.

"2. Dillinger's capture in Wisconsin some weeks ago being thwarted by a radio message broadcast by Schoemaker, foiling plans of supervising Capt. John Stege to catch the desperado."

Stege, head of the city's special Dillinger squad, apprised of the Times story, said:

"Certainly we went into Wisconsin several times in efforts to capture Dillinger. But as to what Schoemaker or anyone else was doing here while we were gone, I can't say."

State's Attorney Thomas Courtney could not be reached. Sullivan was attached to the state's attorney's police.

Dillinger was reported several days before his death to have accompanied his latest sweetheart, Polly Hamilton Keele, to the detective bureau where she took physical examinations necessary for her to obtain a license as a waitress.

Other police officials would not comment on the Times story.

TRADING TO BE RESUMED ON MONDAY

during the period of the Judge Sullivan award in which the company receives 4,000 or more cars of stock, the company will give 48 hours of work for such a week to as many regular live stock handlers as may be required to handle such stock and who are in any classification which regularly received 48 hours of work per week before the date of Judge Sullivan's award, and in any such week as many extra men as may be required will be given an opportunity to work 40 hours."

Both sides expressed pleasure at the settlement of the present difficulties.

The NRA administrator, who insisted he was "pushed" into negotiations here, arrived Thursday as chief speaker at "NRA Day" at the fair, and found himself immediately beset with requests to step into the conference.

First conferences were called yesterday at which union leaders, Carl Steffensen, secretary of the regional labor board in charge of the strike mediation, and others appeared "Progress" was reported.

Today the General was closeted for hours with representatives of both sides, emerged perspiring and smiling to say the strike was "off."

"But give credit to the wisdom of the original Sullivan award, to the local mediators and to the willingness of both sides for settlement of this strike which might have spread dangerously," he said.

"In a thing like this," the General added, "it is difficult to say which side wins. Both win and both lose."

Johnson said both sides agreed to abide by the Sullivan award, as now modified and would refer to him for mediation on minor points still unsettled. The General plans to leave for Washington tomorrow.

Judge Sullivan, reached at a golf course, agreed to act as arbiter on the other points at issue.

Little violence attended the strike, due in great part to a "hands off" policy by the commission men, affected mostly by the walkout.

It was not until yesterday that they ran stock into the yards under heavy guard. One farmer, showered by bricks, escaped unscathed.

Johnson said, commenting on his position in the strike:

"The amount of money involved in the concession was not more than $30,000 or $40,000, yet this strike was tying up the government relief buying. That's the only reason I backed into this."

Johnson, somewhat ruefully, said he'd like to take opportunity to get to the fair again. "I am supposed," he said, "to be on vacation."

SOME FISH

Salt Lake City, Aug. 4.—(AP)—What was reported to be a sea monster in the Salmon river turned out to be a sturgeon, 16 feet long and weighing 298 pounds.

Boys swimming in the river fled with a story of a monster in the depths of the stream. Half a dozen men who went to investigate saw the big fish beneath the water, but their spears glanced off its bony plates harmlessly.

Finally they got a loop over its head and hauled it to the surface.

FARMER KILLS WIFE, DAUGHTER, THEN DISAPPEARS

Leaves Note Admitting He Had Killed Pair County Officers Claim

Keswick, Ia., Aug. 4.—(AP)—The bodies of Mrs. Stella Martin and her daughter, battered about the head by the butt of a gun, were found in their farm home near here today.

The two had been dead since Thursday night, Coroner Irvin Reynolds of Signourney, said. A note from Mrs. Martin's husband admitting killing the two was found near the bodies.

Mrs. Martin, about 45, had been shot with a 12 gauge shotgun through the thigh, but she probably died of head wounds from the butt of a gun, Coroner Reynolds said. The daughter, Maxine Abel, was 13. She was beaten to death.

Neighbors discovered the bodies when an investigating party was formed after no one had been seen about the house for several days.

The note from the husband, Adolph Martin, asserted he killed the two and that "you'll find me somewhere." Henry Martin, a son who lives at Gibson, identified handwriting in the note as that of his father, Coroner Reynolds said.

Officials refused to make public the contents of the note, but said it revealed a motive for the crime. They also refused to state what the motive was.

CHAPTER XL

Claire Maldon! . . . The name leaped at her out of all the other things that he had just said. She heard nothing else. She needed nothing else but that name. It told her instantly why Kim was sitting before her now, calmly demanding a divorce—why he had been irritable and indifferent ever since the beginning of winter.

"Why didn't I know it?" she murmured.

"Know what?"

"That Claire Maldon's at the bottom of all this. . . . Wouldn't you think that, I'd have guessed that some time or other during all these weeks when you wouldn't talk to me or come home to meals or pay any attention to the baby?"

She began to laugh suddenly. A bitter little laugh with a break in it.

"When I think of all the nights I've lain there on that couch wondering what was wrong!—Trying to tell myself that you were worried about your business, or that you stayed away from home so much because you were playing cards downtown with the men. Wouldn't you have thought I'd have guessed that it was because of some woman, as usual? Some girl in an office or a drug store—or some married woman like Claire Maldon?"

Kim stared at her in bewilderment.

"I hope you're not going to be dramatic about this," he said, with all a man's fear of a scene in his voice. "We can settle it quietly, can't we? And sensibly?"

"If you mean that we can arrange a divorce, my answer is 'No.'" There was no hesitation in Mary Faith's voice. "If I knew that you were honestly in love with her and that she was honestly in love with you, I think perhaps I'd let you go, Kim. But I don't know either of those things. The only thing I'm certain of is that Claire never will care very much for anybody but herself. And if you——"

"I don't see why Claire has to be dragged into this," Kim broke in violently. "I haven't said that I'm in love with her."

But a dull red flush crept under his blond skin, and he threw back his head defiantly, like a wayward boy who has been found out in some stupid deception.

"It just happens that I do think a lot of Claire, though," he added awkwardly, as if he were half-ashamed of what he was saying. "I wasn't going to tell you this—but you've asked for it, so here goes. I've been crazy about her ever since I've known her——"

"But that's not true, Kim!" Mary Faith cried. "You were in love with me when you asked me to marry you two years ago, and you knew her then. And you knew her two years ago when you were so infatuated with Janet McCune—and this fall when you had some sort of affair with that girl in the drug store. You got over those affairs, and you'll get over this one, Kim. You're like that. I don't say one woman is just the same as another to you, but almost. If there's anybody you're faithful to, you're faithful to me—in a way. You always do come back to me. Don't you?"

He wouldn't answer her. He stood looking at her for a minute or two longer, swinging his head from side to side.

"But even if you are in love with Claire," she went on, "you can't think entirely of yourself now. You have a son and you've got to stick to him. In a few years he'll be growing up, and I won't be able to do the things for him that a boy's father ought to do. I won't be able to tell him how to take a punch on the jaw in the schoolyard, or take him fishing, or explain baseball games to him—or do any of the things that your father should have done for you, if he'd wanted to make a man of you."

Kim's face flushed a dark angry red.

"I suppose you're telling me that I'm not manly enough," Kim said sullenly.

Mary Faith looked at him steadily. "I think you'd understand fair play better than you do, if you'd been allowed to lead a regular boy's life when you were little," she said coolly. "You've told me, yourself, how you were tied to your mother's apron-strings, how you had to lie to her to get away with the other boys. . . . Yes, I do think you'd be more of a man, if you'd had a father to bring you up."

And all at once she was crying wildly, so that she could hardly hear the angry things he was saying to her.

"Kim, let's not quarrel like this," she sobbed. "We can talk this over in a day or two when we've both calmed down a little——"

"I've said everything I want to say," he cut in, "and I've made up my mind as to what I'm going to do. I'm clearing out, and the only way you'll get any money out of me is to sue for a divorce and ask the court to give you alimony. I've tried to be fair, and you've refused to let me be fair. From now on you can fight for what you want, understand?" And shaking with rage, he flung himself out of the flat.

"Well!" Amazed by the suddenness of the calamity that had befallen her, Mary Faith sank down on the rug before the fire, put her hands to her head and tried to think clearly. . . . It came to her gradually that the storm that had just burst had been gathering for a long time. All the last weeks the clouds had been gathering. . . . Weeks ago she ought to have seen what was happening and tried to stop it somehow. She ought to have gone to Claire and appealed to her. Reminded her that Kim had a little baby, as well as a wife and mother to support.

"But it probably wouldn't have done any good," she decided. Claire was just as selfish and spoiled as Kim was. She couldn't see Claire giving up anybody or anything that she wanted——

At half past six Mrs. Farrell came home, carrying an empty shopping bag and wearing upon her massive bosom a large bunch of lavender sweet peas. Mary Faith saw at once that she was laboring under some kind of powerful excitement. There was color in her usually pallid face, and she actually wheezed with excitement. What on earth could have happened to her, to whom nothing of importance had happened in so many, many years?

"M-Mary Faith!" Her voice shook and she gave a nervous little laugh. "Mary Faith, you'll never believe me—I'm going to be married!"

She turned and glanced toward the dining-room. "Is Kimberley here? I suppose I ought to let him know first."

"He was here, but he's gone."

"Hmm—" She gave Mary Faith a sharp look. "He's on the cataramus again?"

"Something like that," Mary Faith answered.

"Well, I'm sorry he's not here. I'd have liked him to have my news first of all!" Triumph and pride gleamed in her eye. "Yes, Dr. Thatcher and I are going to be married in the morning—at his sister's house. And we're going to Florida for our honeymoon! My, I never dreamed of such a thing happening to me when I walked out of this flat this morning!"

She rambled on and on all evening. She was far too excited to settle down to anything, and Mary Faith did most of her packing. Only once did she come down to earth, and that was when she came into Mary Faith's room to say good night.

"Doctor's house looks awfully bare to me," she said. "So I've decided to move most of this furniture into it when we come back from the South. . . . It's old stuff, but it's solid walnut and I can have it done over. You and Kim never did like it much anyway."

Mary Faith did not tell her that Kim had left the flat and was not coming back. She realized that Mrs. Farrell was gloriously happy for the first time in years, and she was not going to do a thing to shadow that happiness.

"I'll clean everything while you're away," she said, "and it will be all ready for you when you get back."

Kim was as good as his word. A week went by, and Mary Faith heard nothing from him. Finally she telephoned him and asked him where he wanted her to send his trunks.

"Athletic Club," he told her shortly.

"Have you heard about your mother and Dr. Thatcher?"

"Yes, I know," he said curtly. "I had a wire from them. Is there anything else?"

"I've got to have some money, Kim. Your mother wants her furniture, and I'll have to have some place to go when she takes it out of the flat."

There was a click as he rang off abruptly. The sharp little sound that was like a period at the end of a sentence. He was telling her once more that he was really through with her. That he was not going to send her any money. That he was going to force her to sue for divorce and alimony.

She hung the receiver back upon its metal hook and turned away from the telephone quickly, as if it were some kind of an infernal machine that had just wounded her terribly and had the power to wound her again.

All the rest of the day she went around the flat doing the little familiar things and trying to decide just what to do. Of course she could get a position as a stenographer at twenty-five dollars a week or so. . . . But could she pay for a nurse girl for the baby out of that and have enough left for their room at Mrs. Puckett's? She knew that she couldn't—and she knew that Kim knew it, too. That was what he was counting on, of course.

Late that night she was awakened by the ringing of the doorbell. When she answered it, Jean Bartlett was standing in the little hallway.

"I can't come in—I can't stop more than a minute!" Jean was breathless, and she laughed as she talked. "I just came to say good-bye. Where do you think I'm going? Out to Phoenix, to be married! I'm leaving tomorrow night! My man was coming east to be married here, but he can't get away, and tonight he called me up and asked me to come out there. So I'm going—and, Mary Faith, I'm so happy!"

They kissed each other and cried a little. And then, as Jean was leaving, Mary Faith called her back.

"Just a minute, Jean," she said. "Who's slated for your job at Nesbit's?"

Other people might marry and go to Florida or Arizona, your own heart might break, but still you had to face the problem of making a living.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 4—(AP)—Authorities detained William Atares, 14, a Chicagoan visiting with relatives in Auburn, while they investigated the fatal shooting of Raymond Wylder, 11. DROUGHT CONDITIONS WORLD WIDE, FEDERAL AGENCY REPORTS SAY

Washington—Growing crops in practically all countries of Northern Hemisphere have been damaged by the prolonged drought reports the Foreign Agricultural Service of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, in a summary of the world drought situation. Even in the Southern Hemisphere, particularly in Argentina and Australia, recent reports indicate that lack of moisture during recent months has so dried out the soil that seeding operations, which are now being completed, have been made extremely difficult in many districts.

Reports of drought in Russia have been numerous this year, and there are indications of a considerable reduction in yields in the important wheat-growing areas of Southern Russia, particularly for early-sown crops in Russia this year it is to be noted that the government recently announced substantial reductions in the quantities of grain which state farms will have to deliver to the government. These reductions were announced for all of the important wheat-producing regions except the middle Volga, Western Sibera, Kazakstan and Central Asia.

The drought has also damaged bread and feed grain crops in the countries of the Danube Basin. Hungary and Rumania report unusually low crops for both wheat and rye this year. In Yugoslavia and Bulgaria the rye crops will be only slightly below those for 1933 but the wheat crop will be much lower.

The Belgrade office of the Bureau states that practically no rye will be exported this season from Bulgaria, Rumania and Yugoslavia and very little, if any, from Hungary because of the reduced rye and wheat yields, resulting largely from drought conditions. The carryover of wheat in Bulgaria, Hungary and Yugoslavia, however, is expected to enable those countries to export small quantities of wheat during the 1934-35 season. The 1934 wheat crop in Rumania has been greatly reduced by the drought. That country has practically no wheat carryover and exports were recently prohibited.

The oats and barley crops in the Danubian Basin will be much lower than in 1933 because of drought conditions but a good corn crop is expected because of frequent showers at timely intervals since the beginning of June.

Drought damage has been particularly severe in the countries of Central Europe where both bread and feed grains have suffered greatly. Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Austria were favored with light to heavy rains recently but they came too late to offset the damage already done by the prolonged drought, according to reports received in the Bureau.

M. F. Dunlap Gives Statement About Closed Ayers Bank

M. F. Dunlap, president of the defunct Ayers National Bank, in a statement made to the Journal Saturday makes an explanation concerning the closed institution, which he says would have been revealed in testimony had he been tried in federal court recently instead of entering a plea of nolo contendere. Dunlap and Andrew Russel, also a former official of the Ayers bank, will be taken to prison next Tuesday by federal officers. Dunlap to the penitentiary at Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas, and Russel to Milan, Michigan.

Sentences of 18 months and fines of $5,000 each were imposed by Judge Charles G. Briggle following the pleas of nolo contendere, on charges of misapplying funds of the Ayers bank. Dunlap's sentence is to run concurrently with another sentence given recently, and he will be eligible for parole in eight months, while Russel will be eligible for parole in six months.

Dunlap's letter to the Journal follows:

August 4, 1934

The Jacksonville Journal,
Jacksonville, Illinois.
Gentlemen:

Since entering my plea of nolo contendere recently in the United States Court at Springfield to the indictment brought against Andrew Russel and myself last January, I have felt I would like to have my friends know some of the facts which would have been revealed in my testimony had the case come to trial.

January, 1927, I purchased Mr. Russel's interest in the bank. At the time the pleas of nolo contendere were entered by Mr. Russel and myself, Mr. Marks Alexander, assistant United States attorney, stated to the court that Mr. Russel had drawn hundreds of thousands of dollars in checks on the Ayers National Bank, both before and after the time that I purchased Mr. Russel's interest, which I had met with by private funds. At the time the indictment was returned there were only approximately $10,600.00 worth of these checks in the cash drawer.

In addition to the losses I sustained from having taken up prior checks, I sustained other losses voluntarily for which I was in no manner legally liable, and which losses I sustained wholly in the interest of and for the benefit of the Ayers National Bank, the stockholders and depositors.

In December, 1930, and in August, 1931, the bank examiner thought that certain bonds, which the bank owned, were carried at too high a value and he asked that the bonds be depreciated $71,230.00. This amount I was entitled to charge off, but instead of doing so and to save the bank this loss, I purchased the bonds at the book value and later sold them back to the bank at the price to be depreciated, and I personally sustained that loss for the good of the bank.

In April, 1931, the bank examiner asked that certain notes of customers of the bank be depreciated to the amount of $200,000.00. Rather than have the bank sustain this loss I told the examiner I would convey all of my farms to the bank and transfer to the bank notes I owned that would be satisfactory to the bank examiner instead of charging up this loss of $200,000.00 to the bank. The lands conveyed by me consisted of 1,340 acres appraised at $153,000.00, and notes to the face value of $47,000.00. This arrangement was entirely satisfactory to the bank examiner and is a matter of record.

At various times since January, 1927, I took up from the bank of my own accord certain other notes of customers that I deemed undesirable to remain in the bank, without any request that I do so having been made and thereby sustained a loss of $50,795.31. In December, 1931, I cashed my life insurance applying the proceeds to take up obligations. The figures above as to various losses sustained by me in trying to protect the bank, total $351,792.82. I think that these figures are all available to the United States attorney and the facts that I would have stated would not have been disputed if the case had come to trial.

The indictment charged that Mr. Russel drew many checks of the Ayers Bank which I caused to be cashed, which is true. The indictment further charged that Mr. Russel and I conspired together so to do with intend to defraud the bank. This latter charge is not true. Mr. Russel and I never conspired together to injure or defraud the bank. Whatever I did, which may have been criticized by the United States Attorney, was not done with any intention of harming or defrauding the bank, but was done for the good of the bank.

So much has been published by newspapers during the last year and a half in regard to my connection with the Ayers National Bank, that I will be very grateful to you if you will publish this statement over my signature.

Yours very truly,
M. F. Dunlap.

Bulgarian Is Impressed By Visit To U. S.

Finds Courtesy, Kindness; No Feeling Of Nationalism

Ivan Diacoff, native of Bulgaria and professor at Robert College in Contantinople, is visiting here as the guest of Hoyt Rawlings, who was a member of the Robert College faculty after graduation from Illinois College in 1928. Friends in Turkey, the two men met in Chicago recently after several years of separation. Mr. Rawlings has been attending the University of Chicago summer school session and returned to Jacksonville to spend a few days at the home of his mother, Mrs. J. A. Rawlings, 1315 West College avenue.

This is the first time Mr. Diacoff has ever been to the United States, though he has studied much about this country and can speak English fluently. Asked whether he had changed his mind about America, he replied that everything was different from what he was led to believe, but that he thought much better of this country than he did before he visited it.

The courtesy and kindness of the American people seemed to have made a profound impression upon Mr. Diacoff as he especially commented upon the service and attention that a customer receives in stores here. In Bulgaria, he claimed, there is no such courtesy extended the patrons of the market places. The hospitality of the people seemed also to have impressed him.

Noting especially the lack of intense nationalistic feeling, Mr. Diacoff thought it strange that one could travel for day in the United States without having to show a passport at a border line. He described the European situation as extremely tense, with race hatreds and nationalistic sentiments running high. Each native of Bulgaria, and likewise of all the nations of Europe, Diacoff pointed out, was taught to believe that his country was the only good country, and that every man must give his life to uphold the honor of his own nation. Fear that this might lead to war was expressed by Diacoff, who thought the United States was lucky to be free from such feeling.

iDacoff will sail for Europe in September, after traveling in the East for a month.

New Morgan County Fair Grandstand

The new grandstand at the Morgan County fair grounds is expected to serve several purposes. It will face a baseball diamond, football field and cinder track and it is highly probable that it will be used by the Illinois School for the Deaf athletic teams.

There are twenty rows of seats from the four foot runway to the top of the stands, the higher tier of seats being 25 feet above the level of the track. It was necessary to make a 78 inch fill at the south end of the stands, in order to bring the ground level up to the track level. The stand will seat

The stand is 206 feet long, and about 30 feet deep. Along the front part of the stand 26 boxes have been built, each box capable of seating eight persons. It is expected that folding chairs will be used in the boxes. Between the front of the boxes and the track a 20 foot space has been left for placing a speaking stand. During the horse races, the space will be kept clear of spectators.

Six stairways, four feet wide, have been constructed in the stands for the use of spectators in climbing to seats, and for quick emptying of the stands. Steps are only 5½ inches, thus making it easy for persons to climb into the loftier parts of the stand. In the center of the stand, an eight foot ramp has been built which will provide an additional outlet for spectators after the events have been completed. Two four foot stairways have been placed at each end for use as entrances and exits.

Underneath the stands is the office, 25'x25', and several concession and display booths. There also will be ample room for storing equipment under the stands.

State Route In Scott Big Improvement

Winchester-Alsey Road To Aid; Other Scott News

Winchester, Aug. 4—The new state road between Winchester and Alsey will be a big improvement to the city of Winchester. There has always been quite a steep rocky hill leading east from the city pavement off of Cherry street along the north side of the City cemetery. The steep embankment along the south side of the street has always made an entrance from Cherry street into the cemetery impossible.

The grade of the new state road brings the level of Cherry street up to a point about two feet below the level of the City cemetery which will make a north entrance to the cemetery possible. This will provide a pavement directly to the entrance of the cemetery which has heretofore been accessible only over a dirt street which during certain seasons of the year became quite bad.

The new road also provides a paved road to the Catholic cemetery one mile and a half east of Winchester. The new route runs just west of the cemetery and will be a big improvement to the narrow dirt lane which was formerly used.

Adjustments For Corn-Hog Pay Incomplete

Morgan County Program Not Complete Is Report

Champaign, Ill., Aug. 4—(AP)—Seventy-three Illinois counties have received the approval of the State Board of Review on their adjusted AAA corn-hog reduction contracts, it was announced today.

This approval is the final step before some 123,000 farmers in the state become eligible for $35,000,000 in benefit payments.

Of the twenty-nine remaining counties, at least a dozen are expected to be approved within the next week, according to word received by the University of Illinois College of Agriculture from A. J. Surratt, chairman of the State Board of Review.

Already many approved counties have completed a portion of their contracts and have sent them to Washington for approval of the secretary of agriculture. Of the corn-hog contracts carrying the early payment provision, Platt county farmers have received more than $16,000 in benefit payments, while checks are expected daily in several other counties.

On the eastern side of the state, all but six counties have had quotas approved. The six are Coles, DeKalb, Grundy, McHenry, Kane and Kendall, and it is believed they will have their allotments adjusted in a few days. Of eleven central Illinois counties, Mason, Menard and Woodford contracts are yet to be approved by the state board.

In the western part, where hog production is often the major farm enterprise, the counties have had more difficulty in making necessary adjustments. However, more than half of them have had their contracts approved, while rapid progress is being made in others. Those which have yet to complete their adjustments are Carroll, Lee, Whiteside, Jo Daviess, Mercer, Rock Island, Henry, Stephenson, Adams, Brown, Fulton, Knox, Hancock, Schuyler, Montgomery, MORGAN, Sangamon, Clinton, Randolph and St. Clair.

Signers Not Required To Seed Wheat

Chinch Bug Invasion Changes Wheat Planting Rule

Because of the heavy chinch bug invasion this year and the possibility of an equally severe infestation next year, if weather conditions are favorable, Morgan county's 645 AAA wheat contract signers will not be required to seed their minimum wheat acreage allotment this fall, it has been announced by Farm Adviser I. E. Parrett.

Chinch bugs extracted a heavy toll from many wheat fields in the county this summer and are a serious threat to the corn crop. Consequently, a number of Morgan county farmers cooperating in the government's wheat adjustment program have stated that they would like to discontinue seeding wheat this fall. The latest interpretation of the AAA regulations received from the extension service of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, allows this deviation from the AAA wheat contract.

Heretofore, all wheat contract signers have been required to seed at least 54 per cent of the acreage they grew during the base years of 1930-1932. This was equivalent to that portion of thei normal wheat crop which was consumed in this country, the other 46 per cent having gone for foreign export in past years. The new ruling gives contract signers in 80 Illinois counties, including Morgan, the privilege of reducing their wheat acreage this fall to any amount less than the 54 per cent, if they so desire.

This permission to reduce or eliminate wheat seeding this fall is purely voluntary, explains J. C. Spitler, who represents the U. of I. extension service in the A A A campaigns in Illinois. The contract signer may take advantage of the opportunity in light of possible chinch bug damage next year, or he may continue to seed the maximum acreage permitted under the contract. He can not, however, seed more than 85 per cent of his 1930-1932 base acreage under present regulations, he says.

Whether or not a contract signer's benefit payments will be affected by reducing his fall wheat seeding below the farm allotment has not been determined. A decision on this point is expected form the AAA wheat section in Washington in the near future.

Jersey and Greene County Men Catch 38 Pound Catfish

Jerseyville, Aug. 4.—A group of thirty men from Jersey and Greene counties held a very successful fishing party Thursday near the Reddish bridge on the Macoupin creek north of Fieldon

They report that Harrold Bean and Lou Freund caught a mammoth catfish that weighed a little over thirty-eight pounds, besides a large number of smaller fish of various varieties.

Typhoid Fever

Blood specimens of the two patients were sent to the state health department in Springfield Wednesday and a positive report was received on both cases Friday. The Reiger home will be placed under quarantine.

So far Jersey county has been fortunate in escaping this disease while so many communities throughout the state have been affected by it. The continued drouth which has lowered all wells and springs in this locality is seen as a possible contributary cause for the development of typhoid in this section and everyone is urged to use precautionary measures to ward off the disease

New Books

Quite a number of new books have been received by the Jerseyville library and are ready for distribution, Miss Nelle Halliday, librarian, announced Friday. In the group are two gifts, "Unfinished Cathedral" by Stribling and "Stars Fell on Alabama" by Carmer, donated by a friend of the institution who has presented it with a number of books in the past

Hunt Large Black Bear

For several nights the Baum family heard noises coming from the timberland near their cottage which led them to believe a wild animal was nearby. A small bell was attached to a garbage container in the yard of the cottage in order that the approach of the visitor would be disclosed. The night after the trap was set, Mr. Baum heard the bell ring and flashed a light into the yard. Much to his surprise a large black bear was revealed a short distance from the cottage. The animal immediately ran off into the timberlands and the posse of hunters who are searching for him have been unable to locate him.

The presence of the bear in that locality has caused much anxiety to Mr. and Mrs. Baum because of the fact that they have a two-year-old child who plays out of doors a great part of the time.

News Notes

Prentiss D. Cheney and his superintendent, C. H. Everett, motored to the Cheney estate near Morrisonville this week on business.

Cheney reports that drought conditions are not so acute there as in this vicinity. The wheat crop consisted of 650 acres averaging 41 bushels to the acre and averaging 61.5 by weight. Cheney has 1400 acres of corn which is in very good condition and also 550 acres of soybeans in condition.

Mr. Cheney, his mother, Mrs. A. M. Cheney, and Mrs. Dorothy Hofsaes of Jerseyville and Edward Scott of St. Louis left Friday for an extended motor trip through the west. They will be guests of Charles M Cheney and family in Denver, Colo., and expect to visit Boulder, Ward, Estes Park, Colorado Springs, Manitou, and other points of interest. They will return to Jerseyville about Sept. 1.

Mrs. Grant Thompson of this city was guest of honor at a birthday supper given Wednesday evening at the offices of the People's Mutual Insurance Company. Following a delicious chicken supper the guests enjoyed a theater party.

Those present at the affair were: Mr. and Mrs. Grant Thompson and daughter Mary Jean, Mrs. Mary Schattgen, Mrs. Melva Houze, Miss Anne McGuire, Miss Virginia Woodruff, Miss Donna Hoos, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thixton, L. L. Taylor, Stanley Marsh, Otto Marsh, Victor Hall, Ted Henigbaum, Don Claus, Phillip Kirkpatrick, H. U. Monier, Phil Murphy, Basil Kline, Gray Cardy and Clyde Baughman.

Mrs. Charles White of Jerseyville entertained a party of friends Thursday evening at the Municipal opera in St. Louis complimentary to a number of visitors in this city.

Those in the group were: Mrs. George Warren and daughter, Miss Elizabeth, of Los Angeles, Calif., Miss Eva Frick of Oak Grove, Mo., Miss Kitty Fulkerson of Kansas City, Mrs. H. H. Gledhill and daughter, Miss Mary Florence, of Jerseyville.

Sixteen members of the younger set of Jerseyville enjoyed a Scavenger party Thursday evening. The guests spent several hours carefully searching through the city to secure the articles given them on their list to locate, and the residents of the city were astonded by the odd requests made of them during the evening.

Those to whom favors were awarded for being most successful in the "hunt" were Miss Mary Florence Williams, Miss Dorothy Miller, Paul Powell and Ralph Downey.

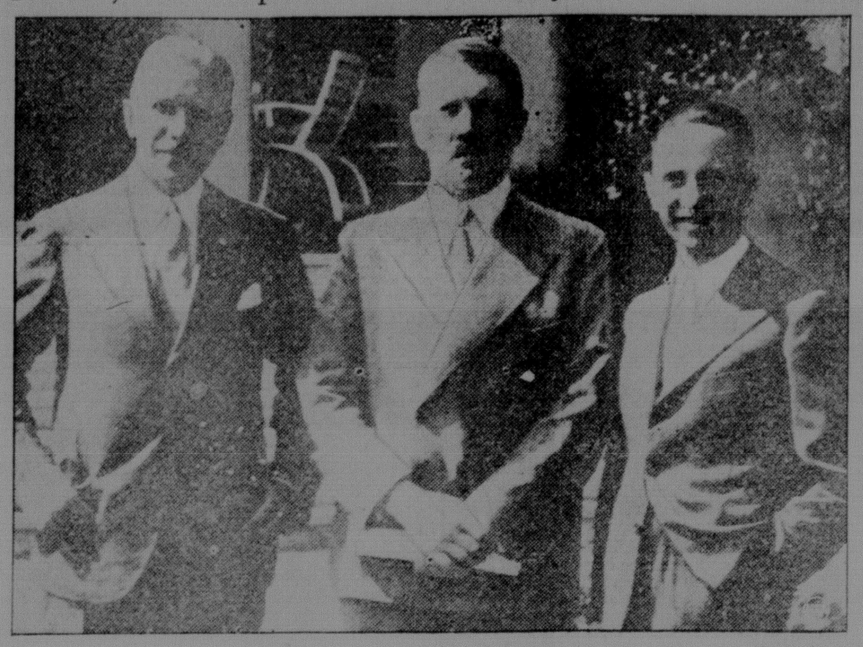

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Baum of Fieldon, who are spending the summer at their cottage near Land-o'-Lake, Wis., had a discomforting experience this week.

Hitler, Now Supreme in Germany, Poses With Aides

Supreme in Germany as president-chancellor with the death of President Paul von Hindenburg, Adolf Hitler is shown, center, with Franz von Papen, left, vice chancellor, recently named ambassador to Austria, and Paul Joseph Goebbels, minister of propaganda, right, as the three conferred recently in Beyreuth, Germany. Despite the friendliness of the pose, Europe expects a showdown soon between Hitler and Von Papen, as the latter was protected during the Nazi purge by Von Hindenburg when his life was reported in peril.

Old Papers Provide Details of Tragic Death of McKinley

Miss Marinda H. Allen, 204 North Church street, has brought to the Journal-Courier office copies of papers telling of the death and burial of President William McKinley. One is the issue of the Chicago Record-Herald of Sept. 14, 1901, and the other the Weekly Press of Philadelphia dated Sept. 18, 1901. The Chicago paper was sent to D. W. Haskell at Exeter.

Both papers are historically valuable because they give intimate details of the martyred president's death and burial and carry pictures of the funeral procession, leaders of the day, etc. In the Philadelphia paper the pages and columns telling of the death of McKinley are bordered in black, while the editorial page of the Record-Herald is outlined in the mourning color.

One story compares the lives of the three assassins of American presidents, Booth, Guiteau, and Czolgoss. Another tells of the rejoicing of the anarchist, Emma Goldman. She jeered at the mourners and mocked the grief of others for the death of the president.

Another story relates how it was necessary to send a courier to communicate with Vice President Theodore Roosevelt, who was in the Adirondak mountains, thirty-five miles from a railroad, when McKinley died. There is also an account of the experience of Secretary of State John Hay, for whom it was the second experience to watch a president die. He had been intimately associated with Abraham Lincoln

Market reports in the papers of 1901 show a depressed condition. Wheat was at the time worth 74-75c a bushel, corn 64-65c, and oats 42c. Eggs were 17c a dozen and butter 21c a pound.

Schools Here Being Prepared to Open: Predict H. S. Boost

The work of trimming and repairing storm damage to trees on the public school property here is progressing satisfactorily, President George B. Kendall of the Board of Education said Saturday. The work has been completed on Franklin school grounds and has been started at the Washington school where many trees were damaged. It was thought best to get this work done before the opening of school, as some of the trees were in a condition dangerous to the children.

The schools will open September 10. Dr. R. O. Stoops, who is at present visiting and attending to business in York, Pa., his former home, expects to be back in his office August 21. The work of renovating school buildings and getting them in shape for the opening of school has already begun.

Mr. Kendall predicted a record attendance in the high school during the coming term. Last year more than a thousand students were registered and this year the number is expected to be even larger. Students are attracted to the school here, Mr. Kendall said, by an excellent faculty, a modern building well equipped, and the enthusiasm that a large school always inspires.

When Storming Party Took Radio Plant From Nazis

Poised for a charge into the Vienna radio station, seized by Nazi rebels in their thwarted Austrian uprising, government troops are shown here beside the doorway of the building, weapons ready for the attack. They recaptured the station, taking a number of prisoners. Shortly after, it was discovered Chancellor Dollfuss had been assassinated.

OBITUARY

Martha Castilla, daughter of James and Nancy Clements, deceased, was born two and one-half miles southeast of Oxville on January 21, 1858 and grew to womanhood in the vicinity of her birthplace

She became the wife of George Baird in the year of 1876, and to this union was born nine children. The husband and four children Edward Newton, Mary Ellen, Wm. Harvey and Phoebe have preceded the mother into eternity.

Mrs. Baird has spent most of her life in the community in which she was born and was a good neighbor and friend, a dear mother and grandmother and will be greatly missed by those who knew her.

She leaves to mourn her departure one daughter, Mrs. Emma Swisher, four sons, Alva, Josiah, Otis Melvin, and Archie Raymond of Oxville community, twenty grand children, ten great grand children and a host of other relatives and friends.

The last year of her life has been filled with sickness and suffering and on December 13, 1933, her condition grew serious and from this she never fully recovered but bore her suffering without complaint. On Saturday morning, July 28, about half past eight o'clock it was found that death had called her. She was at the time of her death 76 years, 6 months and 7 days of age.

The funeral services were held in the home Sunday morning at eleven o'clock conducted by Rev. Harry Evans of Winchester. Casket bearers were Russel Cox, Emory Gregory, Fred Six, Joe Severns, Almond Cox and Otis Bunch. Songs, "Let the Lower Lights Be Burning," "Rock of Ages," and "In the Garden" were sung by Mrs. Cecil Merriman, Mrs. Helen Cox, Mrs. Lottie Smith and Mrs. Ora B. Likes with Mrs. Venia Gilman at the organ. Interment in the family cemetery one fourth mile from the home. Fay Gilman and Eileen Merriman cared for the flowers.

NEWS REEL SHOWS SON OF MAN KNOWN HERE

The news reel which was shown recently at one of the local theaters included an item of special interest to Jacksonville people. Carroll Layman, who received the Eks' $1,000 scholarship award in the essay contest given at Kansas City during the national convention, is the son of Nelson Layman, attorney, of DuQuoin, Ill.

Attorney Nelson Layman will be remembered by many friends in this city as a nephew of the late Judge M. T. Layman, who studied law for several years in his uncle's office. Carroll Layman is also known to Jacksonville students, having been a member of the debating team in the national contest at Topeka, Kas., and at that time met the Jacksonville High school debating team.

Holcomb Convinced Storm of July 10th Was Straight Blow

E. W. Holcomb, of the Springfield weather bureau, is convinced that the storm which hit this city July 10 was a straight blow and not a tornado. He made his statement following a study of the record presented by Dr. F. G. Norbury, local weather observatory.

The statement is as follows:

Dr. Frank P. Norbury,
Co-operative Observer:

"Your letter of July 24th and inclosed barograph trace was much appreciated as was also your previous report of the storm. x x x

"Your barograph trace establishes definitely in my opinion that the storm was not a tornado. Photographs of debris published in newspapers made me stronger suspicious that tornado action was not present, and with your barograph showing a steady fall followed by a sudden rise and a prompt return to nearly the previous pressure reading the question is settled so far as I am concerned. This is a characteristic fluctuation incident to a thunder squall, but the amount of change in barometric pressure is much greater that I have previously noted, and which of course explains the violence of the storm.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) E. W. HOLCOMB.

Dr. Norbury has been keeping the records of the local weather for the past seven years, and has not missed a single reading in that time. Each month it is the duty of his office to present a complete report of the weather for the month to the federal and state offices.

FORMER LOCAL WOMAN PASSES AWAY FRIDAY IN LITTLE ROCK, ARK.

Mahlon Gaumer Jr. of Jacksonville, received word of the death of Mrs. William A. Walker which occurred Friday afternoon at her home, 4223 Kenyon street, Little Rock, Ark. Mr Walker was formerly proprietor of the Bunny Grocery on East Morgan street here, and while living in the city Mrs Walker made many friends.

Bitsy Slays Another Giant

This practice of Bryan "Bitsy" Grant, of Atlanta, of slaying tennis giants is becoming a habit. After taking the measures of the tall Frank Shields and Les Stoefen earlier in the year, the little feller stopped the sensational climb of Henry Prusoff, huge Seattle, Wash., player, in the semi-final round of the Seabright, N. J., invitational. Here is the midget Grant shaking hands with his vanquished opponent.

"I Always Feel Safer in a Ford"

ALL-STEEL BODY AND SAFETY GLASS—The strength of steel protects you when you ride in a Ford V-8.

Around you is an all-steel body, electrically welded into one piece.

Beneath your feet is a rigid, X-type steel frame.

Out in front of you and behind you are strong steel axles, triangularly braced by steel radius-rods and supported by a steel torque tube.

You ride upon steel-spoke wheels, also electrically welded into one piece. The windshield before your eyes is safety glass. (All Ford V-8 De Luxe closed cars are equipped throughout with safety glass at no additional cost.)

Another reason why you feel safer in a Ford V-8 is something that makes every driver a better driver . . . ease of handling. There is always less strain and less likelihood of tight situations when you drive an alert, obedient car.

The Ford V-8 gives you an extra margin of safety because of its quick acceleration, eight-cylinder speed and power, ease of steering, stability on curves and rough roads, and powerful, oversize brakes.

A wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mrs. George Morrow after the ceremony. The newly married couple left on a short wedding trip and after Aug. 15 will be at home in an apartment at the Americus Seely home on West Bridgeport street.

They were attended by the bride's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee of Alton.

A wedding dinner was served at the Barnett home. Those present beside the bride and groom were Mrs. Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee and three children of Alton, and the bride's daughter, Mrs. Earl Blackburn, and son of Roodhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside with Mrs. Barnett until he can secure his own home which is leased until next spring.

PUT WRIGHT IN CONGRESS

WARREN E. WRIGHT

To My Friends of The 20th District:

In order to correct any false statements regarding my address at Waverly, Illinois August 1st, 1934, I hereby publish my remarks just as they were delivered from my manuscript. Any one of my friends among the estimated one thousand in attendance will vouch that the following is the exact manner, word for word, as they were delivered by myself:

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

I want you to know that I greatly appreciate the privilege of addressing this large audience of citizens here today. It is gratifying to me to see so many children here and I desire to direct part of my talk for their consideration. I am just wondering if any congressman who voted for the reckless spending of billions of dollars of the tax-payers money, took into consideration the fact that he was signing a judgment note for these children to pay. Long before these notes are paid in full the parents of you children will be paying tax installments and interest on this note and it possibly will deprive them of the privilege of sending you away to school, as all parents of this district have a desire to do.

Over in a small village of Murrayville, in this county, where I was born and raised, a little girl takes from her mother's kitchen the discarded bright tin cans that fruit and vegetables come in and by the use of a pair of shears and some bright colored tissue paper she makes these cans into a flower pot filled with beautiful tin and paper flowers. Their beauty has attracted many a tourist and she has sold them to people from far and near for a very small sum. These few dimes that this little girl has gleaned from her labors has been spent for an occasional dress for herself or a shirt for her smaller brother. Thus she, her brother and some merchant have been made happy. Just recently by an executive order of the President a similar project in which a mother desired to support her two children in her home was stopped, because of the NRA. She will now be obliged to go on relief. She did not want to, but was forced to.

When the initiative of this little girl in Murrayville has been called to the attention of the state NRA enforcer, she will no doubt be obliged to discontinue her labors and will be deprived of the few pennies she now earns.

The success of your life will, in a large measure, depend on your personal initiative. While you younger people are not granted the right to vote, if you will assist in electing me to Congress, I promise you now that I will vote to take away from the President or any one else the authority to strangle initiative.

As a lad, over in this same town, I remember that with my school chums, just as you do here, we played marbles, mumbledpeg and baseball and some of the lads became rather proficient along that line, but I do not remember of a time when the government appropriated cash for the purpose of instructing us how to play these games. You may not know it but down in Carrollton, Ill., the PWA has granted authority to the mayor to appoint "two tennis instructors" and they are to receive $45.00 per month for a period of three months, working three hours a day. Now do you think it is necessary for the young folks of Carrollton to know how to play tennis any more than you?

Now I am not trying to create among you an emnity for any young folks in Carrollton, but I am trying to bring out the question that if "tennis instructors" are appointed in Carrollton, are they to be appointed in every town and hamlet of this country. If so, this is where the "rub" comes in as you realize that such a program would only add more millions of dollars in taxes for you to pay when you reach maturity.

I am honored to be the Republican candidate for representative in Congress from the 20th District of Illinois, and I feel that I am obligated to present to the voters of this district a clear and definite outline of my platform in this campaign. It is not the sort of platform to which you have been accustomed.

I wish to say frankly that I do not believe any candidate for public office can say positively what he is going to do if he is elected. Every act of any public official calls for a new decision, a separate exercise of judgment; he must see the need of the hour as it arises and do the best he can, keeping in mind the welfare of the whole people he is chosen to serve.

Some Democrats are always asking what is the Republican plan to take the place of what is being done in and to the country now by the Democratic Party. George III and his ministers in England might just have well have asked what plan Washington and the rest of the "rebels" had. I give the same answer as the Revolutionary patriots. My plan is to get rid of the tryanny at Washington—by far the most despotic example of tyranny ever shown among a civilized people: My plan is to get rid of it immediately and so thoroughly that no poisonous cult culled from a group of untried mentalities impregnated with the doctrines of anarchism and destruction shall ever again get a foothold in the capitol of our beloved country.

In this connection I recommend for the thoughtful consideration of my Democratic friends of this district the recent remarks of such Democrats as:

Gov. Alfred E. Smith, of New York.

John W. Davis, 1924 Democratic Presidential Candidate.

Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia.

Senator Millard Tydings, of Delaware.

Senator Gore, of Oklahoma.

Representative Tyrell, of Texas, and Ex-Senator Jim Reed, of Missouri.

Does any one question the sincerity of these Democratic statesmen?

I can here and now pledge the citizens of this district that I will do my utmost to avoid mistakes I know have been made by congressmen in the past. (I realize that I will make mistakes of my own, for I am human) but I am determined not to repeat errors I know others have made and which have already brought the disapproval of public opinion. In this I am in a position of the man who wished he knew where he would die, and declared that if he did know, he would never go near the place. This I can tell you definitely: If I go to Congress, there are some things I will NOT do.

In the first place, I will NOT vote for any measure which, in my judgement, is fundamentally unsound, and that will further harrass a tax-ridden public. I will not be stampeded into putting on the statute books of this nation laws that increase the burdens of the people far beyond what they are able to bear. I will not use a national emergency as an excuse for kicking into the discard the principles of free government, or to inflict oppressive taxes upon a people who began their fight for liberty by dumping the British tyrant's tea into Boston harbor. I believe in good government, but not so much of the brand as the present administration seems erer ready to hand out.

I will NOT make a trip to Russia or to any other country at my own expense or at the expense of my government or anyone else, and then come back to my own land and be the principal proponent for recognition of that country and the consequent lending of millions of dollars of the tax-payers' money to any such country. When the country in question has already repudiated its debts to the United States and has indicated its hostility to our form of government, and its intention to establish its own system through world revolution, I will not go about praising its radical activities among our people or filling them with its insidious propaganda. We don't need Russian Communism or any other politicalism in the United States. We have a Constitution and a government that have stood the test of nearly 160 years and we don't feel like exchanging them for experiments born of revolution and violence. I will not let myself be used as a tool of radicals and theorists.

I will NOT foster the idea of a "small token" payment by any foreign country that now owes the United States in debts and claims more than $500,000,000 past due for a period of 15 years. I do not believe in the cancellation or reduction of the just debts owned our government by foreign nations. Every such cancellation or reduction means an added burden on the American tax-payer. During the war, under a Democratic administration, our government loaned Europe billions of dollars and financed the loans by selling government bonds to patriotic citizens. Thus, if Europe does not pay the war debts, we must pay them from private incomes already practically wiped out by depression. Why should we finance Europe's governments or her wars, or her propaganda? A token payment is not even a respectable installment. It would not be tolerated in private business. The American people cannot afford to let foreign nations get away with such nonsense.

I will NOT vote for any measure that cuts from under their feet the support of thousands of men who fought and bled for what they were told was "the sake of Democracy" in a war they were led to believe would end all war. I challenge the right of any man, be he Democrat or Republican, to vote to put you or me into a war, and then a few years later, vote to "kick us out of a hospital." To deny compensation and hospital care to men who suffered the horrors of war and who through long years since that war have been enduring the tortures of physical wounds or mental shock, is the most ungrateful and heartless act I can imagine. I will not do such a thing even though I am told it would be in the interest of "economy."

I will NOT employ as my secretary any member of my family at a salary in excess of $300.00 per month, or any larger or smaller sum, when many other competent and qualified constituents in my district are unemployed. I will not go outside the district to employ people in government positions when I have the power to secure for worthy citizens in my own district some employment in public service. I will not rob the soldiers and post office employees of their just due, and turn around and spend the money thus saved in setting up useless jobs to pad political payrolls. I will not cut the salaries of faithful people who perform the normal functions of government, and then use the tax-payers cash to set up bureaucracies that are contrary to the Constitution and spirit of our country.

Furthermore, I will NOT advocate measures in Congress that will double the national debt and create more bureaus, commissions and administrations than have existed in all our previous history. I will not run on a platform of decreased expenditures in government and then vote for the creation of a debt of 35 billions of dollars. We are going to have to pay that debt, and the billions and principal and interest will go into the pockets of the great capitalists who have snapped up the lion's share of the government securities. AS HOLDERS OF THE BONDS THEY OWN THE GOVERNMENT. What are you going to do about it? You are going to pay them, "or else."

If my government, acting through my party, forcibly adopts a crop reduction program, I will NOT in the face of that edict, go out and seed three times as many acres of wheat as were ever before sown on my farm, while my neighbors are forced to reduce their acreage.

I will NOT fail to raise my voice in protest against the "knocking in the head" of millions of little pigs, or the plowing under of cotton or the wholesale destruction of any other agricultural product already born or planted. There are enough people in our country to consume all the food our farmers can produce. With proper adjustments in marketing and distribution, there would be no surplus.

It is the unified opinion of all of our people that before prosperity returns the American farmer must receive the cost of production plus a reasonable profit. I stand for such a program and will vote for the measure that will insure such an accomplishment.

While I favor the proper care of the worthy destressed people of our district, it is my opinion that there is not a person on or off the relief rolls of any county in this district that would not rather perform some worth while work in exchange for any cash advanced by his neighbor tax-payers. I do not believe that the reckless expenditure of billions of dollars of the tax-payers money is necessary to accomplish such an end.

I will NOT be swayed by any majority in Congress to bury the Constitution of the United States. I believe it is the height of disloyalty to put from under our government its foundation stones, even though the nation may be facing a crisis. We have found our way out of many a crisis without sacrificing our Constitution.

I will not write to the voters of my district and tell them I am a hundred per cent for some measure in which they are vitally interested, and at the same time be doing all in my power to prevent its passage. The bank depositors in this district who suffered heavy losses wanted the McLeod bill, which would have paid their losses in full due to the closing of banks the government said were sound. They still believe they have a right to get back their savings from a government that should have watched over them more closely.

I will NOT vote for the entrance of the United States into a League of Nations through the front door, the back or side door, the cellar window, or any other door or window. The American people have expressed their disapproval of the League, its subsidiaries and its side issues. The League itself has failed to function and has become the laughing-stock of the world. I will not help push through Congress any measure that will involve our country in "entangling alliances" with foreign nations.

I will NOT compile a "black list" of either Democrats or Republicans in my district; for, while there may be friends to reward, there should be no enemies to punish.

I will NOT lead a parade in the capital of my home state to aid in forcing a sales tax upon my people. If I go to Washington, I expect to represent my district in the national government and will not interest myself in building up a state machine to "whip into line" legislators of my party to vote for laws that are unpopular and which large masses of the people have emphatically said they do not want.

I will NOT vote for measures to put the government in business, when practical experience has shown that the government should be kept out of business. I will not vote for regimentation of our people under a fascist system, or for the encroachment of government in private business, except insofar as it is necessary to prevent abuses.

These, fellow citizens, are a few of the things I will not do if I am elected to Congress. I have not time today to give them more than passing mention; but I shall discuss each one of them at length later in this campaign.

I have been in Washington, and have made a study of what is being done there. I believe mistakes have been made and that things have been done the people do not approve. If I go to Congress I want to do what the people want done. I will be YOUR representative and will look after the interest of the people who honor me with their choice.

I thank you for your attention.

[I Stand on This Platform and if You will assist in electing me I will endeavor to represent ALL fairly and be a credit to This District by Making a CLEAN RECORD!]

MERCURY CLIMBS AGAIN IN GREENE COUNTY, REPORT

Windstorm Breaks Trees at Carrollton Other News Notes

Carrollton, Ill., Aug. 4.—August weather that started out as a contrast to July with the mercury in the eighties Tuesday, took a change yesterday and started out to break some of last months all-time records. Wednesday dawned clear, and warm and by 2:30 p. m. the mercury had climbed to 105 degrees in the shade and as a light shower of a fews moments duration had fallen Tuesday evening, the air was more oppressive than it was during the intense hot spell of July, on account of the high per cent of humidity.

The mercury dropped from 105 to 94 in about 15 minutes and as soon as the storm passed it quickly shot up again to 102. Around 8 p. m. bad looking clouds gathered and soon the wind was blowing hard. Branches were broken from the large maple trees around town, but no other damage has been reported.

Reports from east of this city were that the wind did considerable damage to trees and small buildings near Rockbridge and Greenfield. The mercury had tumbled to 80 at 8 p. m., and it remained cool during the night Friday promises to be another schorcher as the thermometers were mounting in the eighties early and the sun is shining very warm.

THIS BIG ONE DID NOT GET AWAY; TIPS SCALES AT 6 POUNDS

Mark Hunt, local artificial bait fisherman, pulled it out of the lake at Nichols park not long ago after a bitter battle.

It was a six pound bass, and he took too large a bite at a plug caste upon the waters of Morgan lake.

However, Mr. Hunt says another bass, not as large, did get away a few days later.

LOCAL YOUTH ATTENDS NATIONAL COUNCIL OF M.E.YOUTH AT CHICAGO

Mahon Gaumer Jr. of Jacksonville, Ill., is among the delegates registered at the National Council of Methodist Youth to be held in Evanston, Ill., from Aug. 30 to Sept. 2, 1934.

This council is being organized by the Department of Epworth League and Young People's Work of the Board of Education of the Methodist Episcopal church. Dr. Blaine E. Kirkpatrick of Chicago, secretary. Members of the league may, perhaps, be in a majority, but the conference will also be attended by delegates from young people's departments of Methodist Sunday schools, from the colleges and universities of the church, and from many of the seventy Wesley Foundations which the church maintains at private and state-supported universities.

The council will not be an old-fashioned convention. It will hear numerous noted persons but it will also take part in panel discussions and break up into small groups of thirty to forty for further discussions of the issues now confronting American youth.

"Working with God for a New World" will be the general theme of the council. In general, it will traverse the field of social and economic problems, and of a new dedication to deeper and more personal religious life. The council also will plan youth programs for the denomination.

View of 'Old Faithful,' Always On Time, to Adorn New Stamp

Every 63 minutes a beautifully curving column of white spurts out of the ground in Yellowstone park, rising to a height of more than 100 feet, and bursting into a smother of heated spray. It is "Old Faithful" geyser, shown above, performing strictly on schedule and presenting a scene of marvelous beauties to the thousands of visitors who throng near it every day of the touring season. It was discovered by Jim Bridger, noted scout, and he was greeted with derision when he first told of its marvels. A picture of the famous geyser will adorn one of the new stamps issued by the Postoffice Department.

How do you expect to harvest your SOY BEANS?

All indications point to a bumper Soy Bean crop in this community—estimates run as high as 25 to 41 bu. to the acre. Custom crews can't begin to do all the work, there aren't enough of them to go around in the short harvesting season. There's only one answer—the AVERY COMBINE. You can easily finance the purchase of an AVERY Combine, or if you prefer, have one or two neighbors join with you.

Even Combine stocks are low. There may not be enough of these to go around because of the big demand this late in the season. 300% more AVERY'S have been bought by farmers this year as compared to 1933. We suggest that you immediately 'phone your AVERY dealer or write the factory at Peoria and make arrangements to get an AVERY COMBINE—be safe on your soy bean crop this Fall—and besides you'll have your COMBINE for years to come, not only for soy beans but ALL small grains as well.

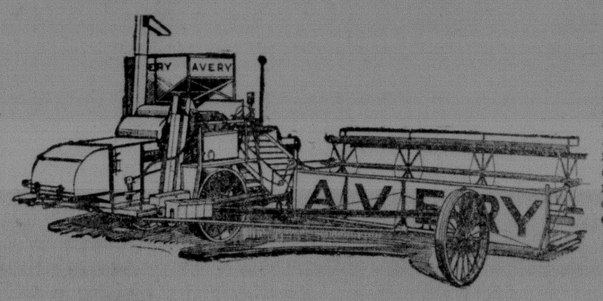

Unless you've operated an AVERY COMBINE, you can't realize the difference in Combines. The big capacity, the ease of handling, the saving of beans and grain, all combined, quickly pay for an AVERY. Agricultural College tests prove you get 30% more of the soy bean crop with Combines than by any other method.

AVERY
Replacement Teeth thresh better, faster

AVERY Teeth improve the capacity and operation—they thresh out more grain, they last longer, and they require less tractor power because they stay new and straight. One edge, tempered by the special AVERY process, is hard and wear-resisting, the other edge is tough and shock-absorbing.

AVERY Teeth have been famous for half a century. Will also fit perfectly McCormick-Deering, Case, Oliver, and AVERY Combines and Threshers, and John Deere Combines.

Triple Tested—by factory, in the field and by agricultural colleges. The AVERY is recognized as the greatest cost-cutting, money-earning, big capacity Combine on the market.

The AVERY is particularly designed to successfully and efficiently harvest this year's heavy rank growth of soy bean vines. AVERY'S patented and exclusive low cutter-bar guarantees fast, clean cutting right down to the ground in any kind or condition of beans. Because the AVERY has perfect spaced cylinder and two-way tailings valve, there is an almost complete absence of split or cracked beans. THE AVERY IS REALLY THE SOY BEAN "SPECIAL."

Where can you match these outstanding advantages? Simplicity, easy up-keep, large capacity, economical operation, non-jerk canvas clutch, non-clog feed house, 12-bar cylinder, spreading comb beater, grain-getter grates, trouble-proof rack, two cleaning shoes, time-saver tank, rigid frame, Timken-bearing wheels—no crank shafts.

For full facts, catalogs and special low prices and the name of your nearest AVERY dealer, write main factory.
